READ WHAT MR. McCULLOUGH SAYS:

Terre Haute House.

Terre Haute, Ind., Friday June 8.

Mr. Warren A. Patrick, Managing Editor,
The Show World Publishing Company,
Grand Opera House Building,
Chicago, Illinois

My Dear Sir—

I wish to take this opportunity, to let you know the amount of good that I have derived from my recent front page display in your paper. A great many people are of the opinion that all theatrical papers are swayed by advertising, and that if you do not advertise in a paper it will invariably roast you. I am pleased to say that your paper was very gracious to me at all times. I received some very fine notices from your critics and I had never placed any advertising with you. Many people told me that they had seen the writeups I received in your papers and also many managers, and I made up my mind that if managers saw those writeups they would see my advertising. That was the reason that I placed my ad with you, and it was very pleasing for me to walk in numerous offices in Chicago and see my front page display on The Show World, on nearly every desk, in every office I went in.

Permit me to thank you and allow me to say that I for one think "It pays to advertise in The Show World" and I am now preparing a full page ad for one of your early issues.

Thanking you again for your kindness, I am Very cordially yours,

Carl McCullough

Vaudeville Artists

IT PAYS TO KEEP YOUR NAME BEFORE THE AGENTS, THE MANAGERS AND THE PUBLIC. The value of advertising is evidenced every day. The act which has a standing in the profession is featured over another of equal merit which is unknown. The act which has a standing in the profession gets the fat salary, while unknown acts fight their way over the little time.

Advertising gives an act "standing" in the profession

BAN BEING PLACED ON FIGHT PICTURES

Race Troubles Throughout Country Make Bad Outlook for Film Promoters.

Chicago, Ill., July 6.—The determined opposition to prizefighting which arose when Jeffries and Johnson were matched to fight their battle of last Monday afternoon and made most keenly felt by those vitally interested when the battlefield was shifted from Frisco to Reno bids fair to be a factor in the moving picture exhibitions of the contest. From several sections of the country come reports that reformers will use every effort to prevent the exhibition of the fight pictures when they are ready for the public. The rising opposition is far from sweet music in the ears of the motion picture men who paid an enormous price for the privilege of taking the pictures and stand to "lose their shirts," as the saying goes, unless the returns from the films pass the $200,000 mark.

One of the earliest protests was from New York but since that time more determined opposition has arisen in Washington, Baltimore, Cleveland and other representative cities. Here in Chicago, where other sets of fight pictures have been shown in the past, the city authorities are on the fence and intimate that they will have something to say when the matter is put up to them.

The importance of the move against the fight pictures is indicated by the fact that Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, of Washington, D. C., superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, has established headquarters in Des Moines, Iowa, for the waging of a nation wide campaign against what he considers a disgraceful and demoralizing exhibition. He has probably chosen the state of Iowa because of the already existing law which prevents the exhibition of fight pictures.

The United Society of Christian Endeavor has taken up the fight and will wage it in practically every city and town in this country and in Europe. By nature diametrically opposite from this organization but having a common purpose, the betterment of social conditions, the International Association of Police Chiefs is likely to oppose the film exhibitions just as generally. At a recent meeting of this association there was passed a resolution pledging the organization to oppose the showing of all moving pictures "that cast ridicule upon the police or in any way tend to increase crime." Prominent members of the association express the opinion that the fight pictures, in view of happenings since the big contest, are clearly within the meaning of the last clause of the foregoing description.

In Washington, D. C., Major Richard Sylvester, chief of police, is out flat-footed with the dictum that the pictures will not be exhibited in the District of Columbia. He takes the stand that in his official capacity he is empowered to prohibit any kind of an exhibition which tends to increase crime or corrupt public morals. Washington's peculiar race conditions make it advisable, the chief of police thinks, that the Jeffries-Johnson controversy be made a closed incident as quickly as possible. Theaters in the national capital have been notified that their licenses will be revoked if they permit the exhibition of the pictures.

EDWARD ARLINGTON WITH YOUNG BUFFALO WILD WEST

Through reliable sources of information, the Show World is in a position to state positively that Edward Arlington is identified with the Young Buffalo Wild West Show, and will have entire charge of the general advance of this aggregation.

Mr. Arlington arrived in Chicago from Minneapolis Thursday morning and went into conference with President V. C. Seaver, of the Young Buffalo organization at his Chicago offices, and it is understood that an addition to the rolling stock equipment is to be made at once.

Trouble With Buffalo Bill.

Regarding the Cody legal proceedings against the Young Buffalo Show, President Seaver said that he had received telegraphic advice from the Show World went to press was awaiting a long distance call from Lancaster, Ohio.

The announcement of Mr. Arlington's connection with the Young Buffalo Show will come as a bombshell to tent show people generally. It is generally conceded that there is no more aggressive and capable executive in the outdoor amusement business than he. His rise in the profession has been meteoric, and that he is destined to play a most important part in the outdoor arena field cannot be gainsaid.

FAMOUS CLOG DANCER DIES IN INSANE ASYLUM

Evansville, Ind., July 6—Frank Young, one of the best clog dancers on the stage, died recently at the Southern Indiana Insane asylum here, where he had been confined for two or three years.

Bessie Devoe, who recently sued Frank Gould of New York for $100,000 for alleged breach of promise, was taught to dance by Young, and when the clever actress left him it is said to have affected his mind. They traveled together for a number of years as Young and Devoe.

MANY PRODUCTIONS PREPARING IN CHICAGO

More Than 2,000 Professional People Will Troup Out of Windy City Next Season

Chicago, July 7—After a rather disastrous season in the theatrical world, the outlook for the coming season looks more promising, especially from a producing standpoint. Chicago producers are working overtime in the laying-out of routes, engaging actors and contracting for effects. More than 2,000 professional people will be employed by Chicago managers alone. Among the productions new to the road this season will be: "Madame Sherry," Richard Carle in "Jumping Jupiter," Victor Moore in "The Girl and the Doctor," "The Rosary," "The Rock of Ages," "The Port of Missing Men," "Rosalind at Red Gate," and "The Guest." Charles Frohman promises to change his policy by sending out two sets of companies and making Chicago his western producing point. He will send out of Chicago "The Arcadians," "The Dollar Princess" and "Our Miss Gibbs." Harry Askin also promises several new musical comedies.

Prominent among the productions in this city will be the new Lederer & Frazer offering, Richard Carle in "Jumping Jupiter" and Victor Moore in "The Girl and the Doctor." "Madame Sherry" will take to the back woods early in September, beginning its New York engagement then.

Princess Company Busy.

The Princess Amusement Company will send out one company each of "The Flirting Princess," "Prince for a Night," "The Goddess of Liberty," "Miss Nobody from Starland" and "The Golden Girl"; they have leased "A Stubborn Cinderella" to Charles

TRUST AND INDEPENDENT SHOWS LOCKED IN BATTLE

Omaha, Neb., July 7—An opposition brigade of the Sells-Floto Shows is billing and programming this city against the Ringlings, who exhibit here July 11. This is also being done in Lincoln and Sioux City, according to reports from those cities, where the trust plays July 8 and 9, respectively. In Fremont, where it was expected that the trust and Sells-Floto aggregations would play day and date, the Ringlings switched their date and will follow the Sells-Floto Shows one day.

TRENTON HIPPODROME QUIT BUSINESS

Trenton, N. J., July 6—The Bay State Amusement company, backed by New Yorkers to operate the hippodrome at the local Tri-State baseball park, has quit. J. H. McCarron, local manager representing the concern says the season's losses will reach $1,500. Inadequate street car service is blamed for the failure of the enterprise.

A. Goettler, Perry Kelly will put out "The Honeymoon Trail." All of the shows will open in August. Charles Salon again sends out "The Cat and the Fiddle" and a new one called "The Cow and the Moon." L. R. Willard has decided on the western "Time, Place and the Girl," which opens August 28, while Frank A. Wade will handle the eastern "Time, Place and the Girl," opening August 21. Billy S. Clifford will be seen in "The Girl, the Man and the Game" and starts his season August 14. Harry Scott will send out four companies of "The Girl of the U. S. A." and two companies of "The Wizard of Wiseland."

Le Comte, Flesher & Wade again book "The Flower of the Ranch", opening August 13. Frank Wade is advertising the farewell tour of "The Isle of Spice," starting September 15, and W. F. Mann is breaking into the musical comedy game with the western rights to "A Broken Idol," opening August 14.

Beside sending out the "Two Merry Tramps" on September 15, J. K. Vetter offers a new musical play, "Dan Cupid," opening on August 18.

Martin & Emery will again offer "The Red Mill" early in August.

Fourteen Mann Companies.

In numbers, W. F. Mann heads the Chicago producers, offering fourteen dramatic productions which open as follows:

"The Vulture" (E), August 7; "The Vulture" (C), August 14; "The Cow" (Continued on page 9.)

BUFFALO BILL MAKES WAR ON YOUNG BUFFALO SHOW

Lancaster, Ohio, July 7.—The Young Buffalo Wild West show which is to play here today is threatened with all kinds of dire things by Col. W. F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill"), who seeks to restrain the Young Buffalo show from operating, claiming that they are beguiling the public into the belief that "Buffalo Bill" is with the show. Circular letters sent out recently by Col. Cody indicate that he is very much put out at the featuring of Col. Lavelle as "Young Buffalo," as Lavelle bears a striking resemblance to the famous "hero horseman of the world."

Col. Lavelle stated to your correspondent that he very much regretted any difficulty with Col. Cody, whom he esteemed highly, but he cannot be held responsible for the strange prank of Nature, who has endowed Col. Cody with a countenance resembling his own to such a marked extent. Furthermore, that he does not believe a court of law can enjoin him from wearing his own face.—Adams.

TOO MUCH CLOWN WITH BARNUM & BAILEY

Jamestown, N. Y., July 4—Barnum & Bailey followed the Buffalo Bill show here, giving two performances on July 2, just one week after the Bill date. The afternoon audience of the two shows were about the same, capacity of the two, but the circus had another capacity attendance in the night, while the Wild West only had a fair night crowd.

Barnum & Bailey's circus this season is about the same as last. The parade was late on account of late arrival from Niagara Falls and a very long haul to the lot.

The clown feature is still worked under the leadership of Harry La Pearl. Most people thought this part of the circus was too strong and detracted from the performers.

In reference to this, the Jamestown Morning Post, the leading paper in western New York, said: "There is an army of clowns with this show, and they should not be allowed to annoy the audience or divert so much attention from the really meritorious ring performances."

The day was the hottest of the season, being very uncomfortable for performers and audience alike. Several fainted and many were exhausted in the stifling atmosphere. The lot was the old fairgrounds and the dust was very thick. The circus played the holiday date at Erie, Pa., today.

ROUTE HAPPENINGS WITH SELLS-FLOTO

Denver Engagement Big Success— New Tiger Kittens on the Job.

Denver, Colo., June 29—The three days' engagement, in conjunction with El Jobel Temple, Mystic Shrine, is over and it was a great success in every particular. The show made a most pronounced hit, which fact was easily proven by the immense crowds in evidence at each performance. Night houses were complete turnaways. This fact is, of course, gratifying. Mrs. John Talbot entertained Will Godfrey and wife at her beautiful home. Lucky folks. Most of the staff stopped at the Auditorium hotel, while the Windsor entertained nearly all the performers and musicians. Park Prentiss and band gave a swell dance Tuesday night in the large hall on the first floor of the Windsor. Over one hundred couples were in attendance, and everybody pronounced it the very jolliest time of the season. Many show folks were visitors during the engagement. Prominent among them were Fred Stone, wife and family. (Fred is on his vacation and will soon go to the mountains to pose as huntsman for a well known moving picture company); Mlle. Nodje and mother, John Talbot and wife and Frank Tammen, F. G. Bonfils, associate owner of the show, his wife, two daughters and father, were seen several times enjoying the many features around the show. Miss Helen, the youngest daughter, is a most pleasing entertainer and the writer enjoyed an hour of her chatter. She certainly is familiar with every department of the show and a most interesting young lady. A very disagreeable rain and wind storm struck us at 7 o'clock tonight (Wednesday) and lasted off and on, until 9. This did not seem to keep the folks from coming for it was impossible to seat many. What the result would have been had the weather remained fair, is hard to decide. However, the lot is solid and we will get off in good shape and be out of town by 1:30 a. m.

Greely, Thursday, June 30—Last day of the month. My! How time flies. The two baby elephants stampeded this morning. One of them ran under big Mama, the largest elephant and the other followed suit. They tore down a few trees, killed a flock of chickens, broke up an incubator and did general damage in a couple of back yards near the lot. No one injured, beyond a bad scare. Damages paid to the amount of $100. Geo. Brown, our trainmaster, is in bed with a fever, and at this writing his con-

TERRIFIC WINDSTORM CAUSES CIRCUS ACCIDENT

One Man Killed and Others Injured During Gentry Bros.' Engagement at Leavenworth

Leavenworth, Kan., July 6—A terrific wind and rain storm here Saturday caused an accident at the Gentry Brothers show grounds in which one man was killed and a number of people injured.

The dead:

Andy Willis, colored, caught under an overturning wagon and instantly killed.

The injured:

J. H. Beddow, government ranger, struck on the head by falling pole; injuries serious.

Jimmie Keating, aged fifteen years, fractured arm.

A number of others sustained minor injuries.

The storm came up during the matinee performance and its apparent intensity so much alarmed the circus people that they advised the audience to leave the big top and the animal tent; the performance was discontinued. Most of the members of the audience heeded the advice but some refused to do so. One man became abusive, it is said, and struck one of the Gentrys; he was injured in the crash which came a few minutes later. It is also said that Willis, who was killed, had refused to leave the tent.

When the full force of the storm struck, both the big top and the animal tent were blown down. Many people were caught under the canvas of the animal tent, but, fortunately, the horses did not stampede, and none of these folk were injured. Women had their clothes practically blown from their bodies and the circus lot was literally covered with hats, parasols and other dress requisites.

The show's animal tent was wrecked and one wagon destroyed. No evening performance was attempted and by 9 p. m. that night the outfit was loaded and en route for Kansas City for their three-day engagement there.

WALLACE PEOPLE TIE UP ROBINSON

Colonel's Crew Kill Date in Wabash
After Railroad Contracts Are Signed.

Wabash, Ind., July 6—The issue of the circus battle which has kept John Robinson shows out of Wabash for the present and has given the Wallace shows a date without opposition which they would otherwise have had is just coming to light.

Robinson had routed Wabash July and had contracted with the Wabash railroad to haul his show, a couple of days after the railroad contract had been signed agents of Wallace shows dropped into town and got contracts for almost every inch of billing space in the city and vicinity. When the Robinson agents arrived they found themselves unable to put out any paper.

A telegram from Mr. Robinson relieved his men by telling them that and Col. Wallace had met and agreed to let the Wallace shows have the towns in Indiana—Newcastle, Wabash, and Warsaw—without opposition in exchange for three towns another state for the Robinson show.

ANIMALS AUCTIONED AT BROOKLYN PARK

Brooklyn, July 6—A sale of surplus animals and old supplies was held at Prospect Park, Brooklyn, a few days ago. A large and enthusiastic gathering of sheep, lambs, horses and cattle with outrageous names went under the hammer. The sale of supplies brought many bargains. Among the items on the program were these: Fifty lambs at $6.25 each for the first four, and $4 for the next forty-six; fifty sheep at $8 for the first five and $4.25 for the next forty-five; fifteen rabbits at $5; five coatimonds at eight-five cents each; two auboads at $7.50 each.

BERMUDA FISH FOR DETROIT AQUARIUM

New York, July 6—Fourteen tons of fish for the Belle Isle aquarium, Detroit, Mich., were brought by the steamer Bermudian, which arrived recently from Bermuda. The consignment is a general assortment, including a large moray.

On the steamer Bluecher which came in from Hamburg, were two elephants, two leopards and a large collection of monkeys and birds.

Fixes Prices of Animals.

Pittsburg, July 6—Bills for two monkeys, a porcupine and various kinds of birds, presented to the City Council disclosed that a turtle can bring $20, some pairs of pigeons $1 and a chimpanzee $300. A porcupine was charged up at $60, a baboon $35; two plain monkeys cost $22, a cassowary $225 and a pair of Japanese cranes $50. All were for the Highland Park Zoo.

CITY IS HELPING STATE FAIR PEOPLE

Macon, Ga., July 6—The city is putting up an extra building needed by the Georgia State Fair Association, which is conceded to have done much toward the development of the section of the country. The new building will likely be used for the housing of Macon-made manufactures.

Concession to American Sportsmen

Havana, July 6—The house of representatives passed the bill granting a thirty-year concession to an American company to operate bull fights, rooster fights, horse racing and gambling generally on the reservation of Buena Vista, a suburb of Havana.

CAPT. MARSHALL DEAD.

London, July 2—Capt. Robert Marshall, dramatist, died here yesterday. He was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, June 21, 1863.

DR. GEORGE B. McCLENDAN.

Original "Diamond Dick" and Far Famed Western Character, Now Attracting Attention in Kansas City, Mo.

dition is quite serious, but the doctor thinks he is not dangerously ill. One of our big tigers gave birth to two buxom kittens this noon. Mother and babes doing fine. Business good afternoon, night packed. Sufficient proof that the show pleases. Short haul, and we are loaded at 11:30. The boys are all retiring early, as the past four days in the big town were strenuous ones for most of us. Misses Jane Bermudy and Dorcas Avery, two charming English girls, joined to ride races, and they are some riders. The Russian dancers closed tonight, and the band boys sighed a long breath of relief. That Russian music is hard, to say the least.

Ft. Collins, Friday, July 1—In early, but a new lot makes a mile haul necessary. The old lot just back of the depot, has been built up. Town looks prosperous. Several new buildings and new post office adds considerably to the general appearance of things. Quite a blow came up just as the afternoon band concert was on. W. P. English recently composed a new tune entitled, "Dance of the Quarter Poles." The band was playing this number as the wind struck us. Think he must have had his "nut" read previously, as it certainly was the "fitting occasion." Business good, both shows long haul, but level and we are out of town before midnight.

Boulder, Saturday, July 2—Day clear and cool, in fact an ideal Colorado day. H. H. Tammen, Attorney Bottom and a couple of friends were over from Denver. Business only fair at both shows, but we never did anything to speak of here, so no one disappointed. This did not prevent the usual pay day, however, and we are loaded and leaving town at 11:45.

FRED MACE'S SPLATTER FROM OLD BROADWAY

Passing Mention of Folks and Things of Interest in the Eastern Metropolis

New York, July 4.—Hurrah for the "gitney" theatrical paper! The Show World last week looked like a house afire with its blazing red ink cover and a picture of that "real fellow" Tim Sullivan. Every one that I have talked to wonders why The Show World has not increased its price other than decreased it and I have had a number of good newspaper men and managers tell me that it is the brightest theatrical sheet published. Believe me, with The Show

World selling at a nickel, the other newspapers will have to take notice.

Watch it grow.

John E. Brennan, who has played

"Hi Holler" in "Way Down East" for the past forty-three seasons, is now booking a sketch, "Home Again," for next season. Brennan is assisted in the sketch by his charming and talented wife whose stage name is Sadam Emile Tosti.

Joe Whithead is here visiting his parents. He is also on a buttermilk jet. Joes says that if some person were to offer him a job he would be inclined to consider it seriously.

Johnny McVay is mourning a

2,500 investment he made in a vau-ueville sketch which lasted about two weeks. After two weeks John was old that if he wished to continue, he would have to accept a cut. Johnny says "never again."

Letters—Here is one that I got on postal card from Edwin T. Emery, of San Francisco—Dear Sir Frederic:

I have read your chatter which you call splatter and which I call splash and dash, and without delay I hasten to say that I trust it brings you cash, or the acting biz just now is rum and rumor. The actorlets are all quite glum.

In fizzling weather, juicily hot, Quaker low town for me and some "Peppery Pot." (Please translate into Hebrewscrapple.)

Bill Morrow left for Grand Rapids

where he plays next week. Louisville,

Memphis, and other time to follow.

Carroll & Cooke are playing Rye leach this week. This has nothing to do with the old familiar red-eye rye.

Let 'em work, boys—they deserve it.

Jolly-Wild are here, having jumped from Buffalo. They have finished their long season and will rest for about eight weeks. They start on the Orpheum Circuit early in September.

Herbert Lloyd did not sail last week as was reported. He left

Wednesday, going to London to propose "Herbert Lloyd's American Mintrals." I told him I thought there was a good chance for a minstrel show on the other side as they had not had one there for many years.

Hope you put it over, Herbert.

Louis Mann, I was present at the opening of "The Cheater." Mr. Mann's new vehicle. The show made a good impression with an audience which was actually melting. It was one of the hottest nights we have had. Despite this fact, however, they applauded and laughed most of the two and one-half hours' entertainment. It is a good comedy.

George P. Murphy will spend the next six weeks at his bungalow, Freeport, L. I. I have been invited down to fish and eat. May go—can't tell.

Billy Clifford will take out a new musical comedy the coming season, playing practically the same territory he played last season with "The Honeymoon Trail." He is now employing principals and chorus.

Harry Armstrong sent from his Chicago henry ten of the prettiest chickens I have ever seen. They are now rehearsing with Joe Gaite's "Bright Eyes" Company. I know a couple of managers here who are seriously thinking of importing their "poultry" via the Armstrong route for their fall productions.

Elsie Cressy sent me a box of "Red Parrot" "cigararoots." Elsie, I don't smoke, but I want to say they were appreciated by a number of well known actors. Who made that box—write me.

"Joe" Clayton, "Slivers" Giffin, Gene Speyer and two other noted actors will in the future become engaged in the hazardous task of gold mining. They have purchased nearly four feet of rich ground in the rear of the Colonel Bar. Drink up, men, and spend your dice checks.

Fight News.—Everyone you meet along Broadway now tells you some different story as to why they thought Johnson would win. Before the fight these same people were talking about betting their last cent on Jeffries, that there was no way possible for the black to win; if he did win, they would kill him, etc. They are all like a good many fellows who nearly beat the races. You all have met the fellow two minutes after a race, who says, "I should have played and intended to play such and such a horse; he figures twenty pounds the best." What's the use of saying any more? I thought Jeffries would win, sure, and I believe I felt worse about his defeat than he does himself. All the smokes here are lit up, and it is as much as a white man's life is worth for him to walk on the west side of Eighth avenue, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-eighth streets. Poor "Jeff," here's to you; you did the best you could. I wonder if "Gotch" would have any chance with Johnson. Try boxing lessons, Frank, and take a try.

Summer Widowers.—I saw this new Lew Fields production the other day and it is immense. Talk about a production—this one puts all the others under the shady palms. Lew Fields is funnier in this than anything I have seen him in since "The Girl Behind the Counter." Irene Franklin has some great songs, and she is a laugh every time she comes on. Ada Lewis struggles hard with almost nothing—too bad this clever woman hasn't a better part. It's a good show.

Poeticks.—
Give me a pistol,
Give me a gun,
And let me pull the trigger—
For Jeffries is out.
Oh, please don't shout;
Whipped by Johnson—a nigger.

Picture House.—A picture house has opened on Broadway, next door to the Albany hotel. They are charging ten cents admission and showing nothing but pictures. Each time I have passed there the place has been filled.

Hanlon Brothers have been booked over the Orpheum circuit in an act called "Just-Phor-Phun." They ought to make good in the two-a-day, for everybody remembers their "Superba" and "Fantasma."

Fannie Brice has made a big hit in "Follies of 1910" on the New York Roof. She gets away with a song better than any woman I know. She is a hit, with capital letters.

WANTS $50,000

FOR WIFE'S LOVE

Toledo, Ohio, July 6.—Clifford R. Riggs, of Oklahoma, formerly of Toledo, has filed in the United States court here a suit against George H. Ketcham of Toledo, horse owner and theatrical man and former owner of Croesus, for $50,000 for alienation of the affections of his wife, Clara Kleis Riggs, now in Mr. Ketcham's employ as stenographer. The petition alleges improprieties with its plaintiff's wife. Ketcham's attorneys have filed a denial.

GIVES MACON THEATER TO THE SHUBERTS

Macon, Ga., July 6.—The Grand theater in this city has been leased to Albert Weiss, of the American Theatrical Exchange, and in the future will play "Open Door" attractions. The Messrs. DeGives, of Atlanta, who formerly leased and conducted the house, will retire from the business and give up all connection with the Macon house.

When the split between K. & E. and the Shubert-Cort combine first developed, Mr. Weiss was active in keeping his theaters in the south in line with the syndicate. He is now equally as active for the "Open Door" people.

NORWEGIANS LOVE "THE MERRY WIDOW"

New York, July 6—William Archer, the dramatic critic, writing of conditions in the National theater of Norway, says that of all operas produced there in its history of ten seasons, "The Merry Widow" has been the most popular. It had not less than 148 out of the 400 performances of opera during that time.

Plans for Bushwick Filed.

New York, July 4—Plans for the Bushwick theater, Broadway, which is to be erected by Percy Williams and associates, have been filed. The lot is 281 feet on Broadway and 200 feet on Howard avenue. The theater will seat 2,232 people.

FALLS 2,500 FEET TO HIS DEATH

Muncie, Ind., July 6—Ralph Bradley, aged twenty-four, fell 2,500 feet to his death here last Thursday in attempting the double parachute leap; the first parachute opened in good order, but the second failed to work. Thousands of spectators witnessed the fall. Bradley was dead when first aid reached him, every bone in his body appearing to be broken.

QUEEN DRAMATIST HAS APPENDICITIS

New York, July 6—Queen Elizabeth of Roumania, widely known under the pen name of Carmen Sylva which she used in creating dramatic sketches, poems, fairy stories, and novelties, is suffering from appendicitis.

MORRIS TAKES DANVILLE AIRDOME

Danville, Ill., July 6—William Morris has leased the airdome in this city and will offer vaudeville there during the summer months. Nine acts will constitute each bill. Admission prices will be ten, twenty and thirty cents.

DAVIS FILM EXCHANGE NOW IN NEW QUARTERS

Watertown, Wis., July 2—Yesterday the H. Davis Film Exchange moved into its new quarters, a modern structure built especially for it, composed of steel and stone. Every feature of the business has been looked after, from the office to the film vault.

LORENTZ & JAMES BUY THE THOMAS FACTORY

R. J. Lorentz and B. L. James have bought the Thomas factory at 56 Fifth avenue, Chicago, and are operating it under the firm name of Lorentz & James. They are making a specialty of tool and die making, experimental work, perfecting inventions, repairing all makes of picture machines, and are the sole manufacturers of the Thomas lamp and lamp house.

Mr. Lorentz is well known in the moving picture business, having been connected with J. J. Pink for a number of years, and is an expert mechanician.

HARVEY IN CHICAGO.

R. M. Harvey, general agent of the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows, spent a few hours in Chicago Thursday.

Short Flights

A new device for controlling captive balloons and box kites used by the signal corps of the army has passed through the stage of experiment, and a complete machine has been shipped to Fort Omaha, Neb. The apparatus is really a large winch equipped with a steel cable and operated by a 45-horsepower air-cooled engine.

Ivy Baldwin made Nevada's first aeroplane flight the other day at Carson City. On account of the high altitude and consequent lightness of the air the machine he used carried an extension of wing service and larger propellers than those to be found on the Wright Brothers, Curtiss, and Farnum machines.

England is happy over the Hon. Charles Stewart Rolls', son of Lord Llangattock, flying across the English channel from Dover to Calais and back without a single stop on French soil. The single journeys made by Mons. Bleriot last year and by Compte de Lesseps a fortnight ago were but flights from the French side to the British side of the channel.

AVIATOR HAD CLOSE CALL AT AURORA

Aurora, Ill., July 6—Frederick Welch, an aviator, yesterday afternoon lost control of his aeroplane and dropped with it a distance of 800 feet, changing its direction just in time to escape wrecking it by colliding with the roof of a house at Aurora, Ill. Welch was entertaining a crowd of 8,000 persons with exhibition flights at the Aurora Driving park when the accident occurred.

The aviator's steering gear stuck and the drop resulted. When only about thirty feet from the ground the shifting of the operator's weight caused the aeroplane to take a sudden upward dart and clear the roofs of nearby houses. This alone saved Welch from serious injury or death.

WRIGHT BROTHERS' PETITION IS DENIED

New York, July 6—The United States circuit court of appeals has denied the Wright Brothers' petition asking for a modification of the court's recent order vacating the temporary injunction against Louis Paulhan, the French aviator, and the Herring-Curtis company in this country.

The Wright Brothers wanted a proviso that the injunction against Paulhan could only be dissolved after the Frenchman had filed a bond to secure to the Wright Brothers any damages which they may ultimately be decided to have sustained. Paulhan is said to have taken between $44,000 and $50,000 away from this country during the two months he was here giving exhibitions.

MANAGERS ADJOURNED UNTIL LATE FALL

Topeka, Kansas, July 5—A meeting of managers of the houses in the Crawford, Kearney & Wells Airdome circuit, was held in Topeka, when it was expected to consider the bookings for next season. Without taking up this business, however, the meeting was adjourned until late in fall.

The Grand opera house will open its season August 29, presenting a of Mort H. Singer's productions "The Flirting Princess." Syndicate and Independent shows alike will be booked next season by the Grand, one of the houses of the Crawford circuit, which has its headquarters in Topeka.

Summer vaudeville is being given at Vinewood park, a resort opened by the Topeka Street Railway company. John Marshall's band, once known as one of the best in the country, is the major attraction.

MILLIONAIRE MARRIES PRETTY SHOW GIRL

New York, July 6—A current rumor has it that Jesse Lewisohn, American millionaire, sporting man and theatrical first-nighter, has married Edna McCauley, ex-New York show girl. Lewisohn went to Paris some time ago, ostensibly for treatment for cancer. Miss McCauley sailed on the same boat with him and it is now said that the pair were married in London some weeks ago.

Lewisohn was long known as a Lilian Russell devotee. Miss McCauley and Miss Russell were very dear friends.

ST. LOUIS OFFERS

$40,000 FOR OPERA

St. Louis, July 6—This city has guaranteed a $40,000 fund for a season of grand opera here in January. The opening performance will be given on the evening of January 2 and will be followed by two other evening and one afternoon performances. The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will be a leading component of the augmented orchestra required in the presentation of the operas.

Count Zeppelin has announced his intention of building a second passenger airship to take the place of the Deutschland destroyed a week or so ago. The new ship will be but half the size of the Deutschland but will carry forty people.

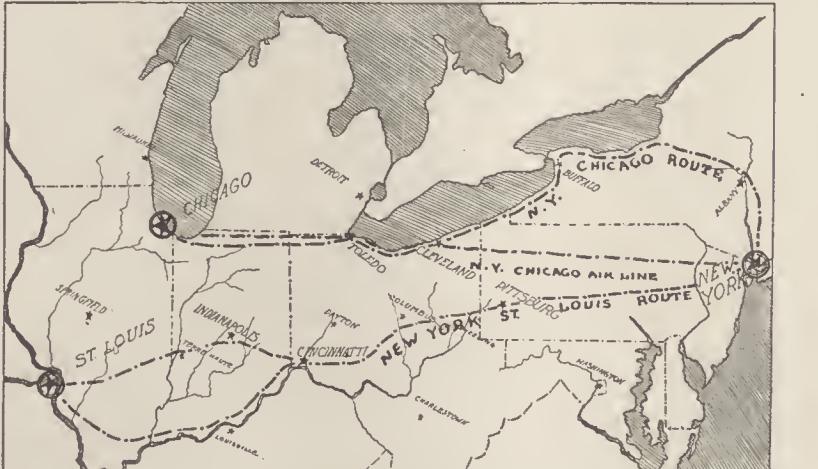

Short Flights

of the exhibition department, has established offices in the U. B. building, and he and Roy Knabenshue will have charge of this end of the company's business.

Count De Lesseps, noted French aviator, accompanied Brookens, American, in a sensational flight at Montreal. In a Wright biplane, the pair reached an elevation of 1,000 feet and did some spectacular maneuvering. Upon descending De Lesseps said that he had felt safer in the Wright machine than he did in the Bleriot (French) monoplane.

Mrs. Clifford Harmon is the first of New York's "Four Hundred" to fly in an aeroplane. She made her first flight with her husband, the millionaire aviator, one day last week, going twelve miles at an average height of sixty feet.

Experiments which Aviator Glenn H. Curtiss has been making show that, in its present stage of development, the aeroplane is not an engine of war. Mr. Curtiss tried to drop imitation bombs on a vessel while his machine was in the air and in every instance failed to get the destructive missiles anywhere near the target.

Proposed Route of Aviators Between New York and Chicago and New York and St. Louis.

Conditions under which the proposed aeroplane race from Chicago to New York City will be run in October have been made public. The prize of $25,000 is to be awarded to the aviator who is one of at least three starting from Chicago in aeroplanes on the same day between October 8 and 15 and who is the first to complete the trip within seven days. The start will be made from some point within the city limits of Chicago to be decided upon later and the aeronauts must finish within the city limits of New York. Entries are now open for contestants.

No limitations are placed upon the number of stops that may be made in the journey or on the number or the nature of repairs. It is exacted only that the flight be finished in the same machine with which it is begun. The week preceding the race the contestants will make daily flights over the Chicago aviation grounds.

The Wright Brothers Company, of Dayton, Ohio, has signed a contract with John L. Pickering, in charge of the airship attractions at the Illinois State Fair, to exhibit two aeroplanes in daily flying feats for a week during the fair. The Wright planes will fly beginning the first Saturday and including the last Saturday, which will be automobile and airship day.

Rev. B. Cannon, who organized the Ezekiel Airship Company at Pittsburg, Texas, ten years ago to exploit a flying machine, built according to prophecies outlined in the first and tenth chapters of Ezekiel, has come forward with the machine. He claims that with the light efficient motors now on the market, the difficulties encountered in his first efforts will be overcome. He is now organizing a stock company to manufacture the machine.

Columbia University will award to Grover Cleveland Loening on commencement day the first degree to be conferred by an American university on a student of aeronautics. Loening, who was graduated from Columbia College in 1908, has been studying heavier than air machines. Loening was one of the founders of the Columbia aerial navigation for the past two years, and will receive on June 1 next the degree of Master of Arts. His bria Aero Club, and was its vice-president during its first year. He resigned that office last fall to devote more time to his course in mechanical engineering.

As a result of a conference between Charles J. Bell and Dr. Albert Zahm, as representative of the Washington Aero Club, and Isaac Gans, chairman of the publicity committee of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to invite aviators to Washington, D. C., for an aero meet in October, as a side issue for home-coming week. Benning field is favored as the scene. Many foreign aviators will be in the country making their arrangements for the international meet, to be held in New York in that month. Mr. Gans will organize a finance committee to raise funds for purses.

The Wright Aeroplane Company has decided to make Dayton its headquarters, and all features of the work will be conducted there in the future. F. H. Russell, manager of the Wright factory, has announced the abandonment of the testing grounds in Alabama and declares that the work of testing machines will begin at the new testing grounds at Simms Station, just outside of Dayton. CIRCUS WAR ENGULFS MISSOURI METROPOLIS

Trust and Independent Posting Forces
Make Things Lively in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., July 6—The circus war is on. The advance forces of the trust and of the Sells-Floto shows arrived here Monday morning and began operations. The Sells-Floto show will exhibit here July 18-19, moving over to Kansas City, Kans., for the twentieth. As this show is poked upon as the Kansas City Post aggregation, a tremendous welcome is assured it. The trust is determined, apparently, to put up a great battle in the Sells-Floto's own territory, and as a consequence the billboards of this city are taxed to their fullest capacity with lurid circus paper, announcing the Barnum & Bailey date, July 25. The Sells-Floto aggregation is more than holding its own in this regard, and its paper is hung upon every available space.

Kansas City is generally considered by circus men as the best show stand in America, and big business is anticipated by both factions. The split rice, however, is almost sure to turn the tide in favor of the Sells-Floto show, the advance reports of the success of the Tammie-Bonfils organization having caused general comment and interest here.

The Gentry Brothers shows exhibited here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and their performances pleased. They showed under a new top, the old one having been destroyed in a cyclone at Ft. Leavenworth, Saturday.—Lay.

EXCEPTION TO LICENSE MADE FOR THE RINGLINGS

Denver, Colo., July 6—The city council passed a special resolution which will undoubtedly be signed by the mayor, permitting the Ringling shows to exhibit here for a license fee of $800, but the uniform circus license law in effect has not been repealed. General representative, Sam McCracken, has been on the ground for the past two weeks and finally succeeded in persuading the city fathers to favor the Ringling interests to this extent.

URNAWAY BUSINESS IS SAVED BY EXTRA SHOW

Colorado Springs, July 4—The Sells-Floto shows are here today, and the crowds around the tents were so large that the management concluded to give an extra performance this morning, right after the parade. If the business done in this city can be accepted as a criterion, the Sells-Floto circus is evidently detracting considerable patronage from the trust shows. The performances here were of a high order.—Peters.

CIRCUS EXECUTIVES MEET IN WINDY CITY

Well Known Showmen Gather in Foyer of Wellington Hotel —Notes of Their Doings

Lon Williams, general agent of the Gentry Brothers shows, is at the Wellington hotel, Chicago, and has contracted to play a Chicago lot the first week in August.

Lon is one of the many who were "stung" by the big fight. A colored chiropodist separated him from $120, which he wagered against $100. Lon says he doesn't believe in prize fights anyway and that betting should be prohibited.

According to all reports, the Kansas City business by the Gentry Brothers shows was anything but satisfactory. The attendance on the first day, July 4, was light, the receipts being about $800 gross. Frank Gentry took a flyer on the fight, and his personal bankroll is much diminished.

C. W. McCurren, of the Young Buffalo Wild West Show, was in Chicago Tuesday in quest of talent. The Young Buffalo show played to a gross of $2,000 in Hartford City, Ind., July 4.

"Buck" Massie, contracting agent for the Hagenbeck-Wallace show, represented the circus profession at the ringside in Reno. He laid off for a week to take in the big doings.

A. H. Barkley, general traffic manager for the Campbell Brothers shows, is making his headquarters at the Wellington hotel, Chicago.

H. S. Rowe is at the Wellington hotel. As the telegraph boys are busy carrying messages to him, and his name is frequently paged in the foyer it is to be presumed that Mr. Rowe may burst into the limelight with another show in the near future. Mr. Norris, his former partner, has a concession at White City, Chicago.

W. A. Shannon is in Peru, but none can forecast what he will do if Ben Wallace buys the Norris & Rowe show.

Tom Ryan, manager of the Campbell Brothers side show, severed his connection with that aggregation last week.

H. P. Hill, for many years identified with the Gentry Brothers shows and now business manager for Wm. P. Cullen's attraction, "The Alaskan," which is playing to big business in western Canada, arrived in Chicago Tuesday to effect arrangements with Ethel Robinson of the Western Vaudeville Managers' Association for attractions for the Winnipeg fair, July 13-23. Among the features secured by Mr. Hill were Cimoyotte (12) horses, Three Newsomes, Heras Family, Byron Troubadours, Six Flying Jordans, Thavius' Band and a troupe of Russian dancers. The Great Patterson shows will be a feature.

E. L. Brannan, traffic manager for the Yankee Robinson circus, joined the clan of general agents at the Wellington Wednesday. He reports big business all along the line, and predicts a wonderful fall season for all well handled tent shows.

Fred Gollmar, C. D. McIntyre, his right bower, and George Robinson, contracting agent for the Gollmar show, registered at the Wellington Wednesday. Of course, Fred is telling some large stories about the big business his show is doing, and his reputation for veracity is well known. In the meantime the clerks and the house detectives at the Wellington are keeping a close tab on his movements, to prevent violence if Fred gets "hep" to any circus agents covering his billing.

C. C. Wilson, general traffic manager for the circus trust, fraternalized with the circus agents at the Wellington Wednesday afternoon. Trust Wilson son to keep a secret, and he was as "mum as an oyster" when it came to discussing routes and business.

W. E. Sands severed his connection as manager of advertising car No. 1 with the Sells-Floto shows, to enter in business with a brother at Hagerstown, Md. Mike Connors succeeds him.

George Roddy, manager of Sells-Floto advertising car No. 3, left the car at Wichita, Kan., Tuesday. He is succeeded by Fred ("Skinny") McMann, who has been promoted from the position of special agent.

Mr. Carmichael, contracting agent with the Campbell Brothers shows for the past five years, joined the Sells-Floto shows at Boulder, Colo., last Saturday.

Tom Clare, for a number of years with the Buffalo Bill show, left New York June 30 to join the Sells-Floto circus at Colorado Springs as twenty-four-hour man, succeeding W. E. Haines, who is now doing the contracting.

W. J. Bauer has been promoted to the position of special agent with the Sells-Floto shows.

C. A. Sherman, president of the Standard Printing Company, St. Paul, Minn., and a director of the Poster Printers' Association, is at the Wellington. Mr. Sherman is popular with show people, and his firm carries a large line of circus work.

Ed. Warner, general traffic manager for the Sells-Floto shows, is making Chicago his headquarters.

According to general reports, business with the Hagenbeck-Wallace show has been light during the past ten days.

Arthur Bennett, general press agent of the Sells-Floto shows, won $1,800 on the Jeffries-Johnson fight, which he separated from Kansas City men who thought they had the right "dope." (Now, everybody don't "touch" at once.)

If you ask Danny Robinson, "What's in a name?" he will tell you there is a mighty lot in a name like Robinson. The answer is that the Famous Robinson shows with an average "nut" of about $800 per day is playing to better than $2,000 a day several times a week. It is not uncommon for country visitors to inquire at the ticket wagon if the "Governor" is with the show. The inference is obvious.

W. W. ("Broncho Bill") Parmlee is making a wonderful showing with the Sells-Floto program in Kansas City. The merchants of Missouri as a rule are good advertisers when they are properly shown, and Bill is certainly a demonstrator.

TWO CIRCUSES TO PLAY DULUTH ONE DAY APART

Duluth, Minn., July 7—The Campbell Brothers circus will play South Duluth July 31. The Sells-Floto shows are contracted to exhibit in Duluth August 1. These same shows played close together on the Pacific Coast, and the Sells-Floto organization made no opposition against the Campbell Brothers in California in the way of billing, advertising or programming, and according to a representative of the Tammie-Bonfils show, they will not send a brigade to Duluth or do anything in the way of opposition. According to this representative the Sells-Floto people will not assume an aggressive attitude towards any of the smaller shows, but they are going right straight along, irrespective of where any of the big ones go, in order to thoroughly test whether the people are willing to patronize a non-trust circus where they can get a fifty cent show for twenty-five cents, or if they prefer to ignore it and pay a half a dollar to the trust combination.—Hunt.

KANSAS CITY CHANGES CIRCUS LICENSE LAWS

Kansas City, Mo., July 5—The circus license ordinance recently passed here was repealed by the city council, and in its stead an ordinance providing for a charge of $10 a car was passed. According to this new law, all circuses will pay this fee per car.

The Barnum & Bailey show is required to exhibit here July 25, and it will be required to pay a license of $800, in addition to the county tax of $300. Had they exhibited under the former ordinance they would have been compelled to pay a charge of $4,000.

Attorney John M. Kelly and general agent Sam McCracken were instrumental in effecting the change.—Lay.

NORRIS & ROWE CIRCUS MAY GO TO BEN WALLACE

Peru, Ind., July 6—B. E. Wallace arrived here yesterday, and tonight is in conference with J. P. Fagan, general traffic manager for the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows. It is reported that a Chicago party holds an option on the Norris & Rowe circus property, which expires tomorrow at noon, and it is confidently believed that Mr. Wallace will come into possession of the Norris & Rowe show, which it is said he will put out for a southern tour this fall, and that Mr. Fagan is with him here to discuss the routing.

If Mr. Wallace gets the show he will undoubtedly put it out at the split price.

BABY ELEPHANTS START STAMPEDE AT GREENLY

Greeley, Colo., July 2—The big Sells-Floto circus arrived here at five o'clock a. m., June 30, and fifteen minutes of excitement followed as soon as the big herd of elephants was released from the cars.

When the adult pachyderms caught sight of the twin baby elephants four of the largest became frightened and made a dash for safety. They crashed through a fence and slightly damaged a back yard. The owner said it amounted to $100, which was promptly paid by general manager W. E. Franklin.

The huge animals were quieted and led back to the train.

ROWE TO JOIN CIRCUS IF BEN WALLACE BUYS

Peru, Ind., July 7—It is reported here that if B. E. Wallace acquires the Norris & Roe circus, H. S. Rowe will be the general manager. W. P. Hall, of Lancaster, Mo., and a Chicago party, said to represent The Cosmopolitan Shows, are on the ground to make bids, but it is believed that Wallace will purchase the property and will not have to pay more than $15,000 for it.

Forepaugh-Sells Men Take Part in Amateur Performance at Meriden.

Meriden, Conn., June 27—As a feature extraordinary of its regular weekly amateur vaudeville performance, Poli's theater on Friday night had a comedy sketch presented by a number of billposters employed by the Forepaugh-Sells shows. The sketch was announced as "The Town Billposters" and told the amusing story of a "rube" mayor who undertook a billposting contract which was too big for him. Bobby Foreman, last season with the "on-again-off-again-Finnegan" musical show, "The Girl in the Grandstand," was prominent in the sketch. Jim Miller, Otto Berkshire and George Miller were the billposters who assisted him. The Forepaugh-Sells men were in town to bill for July 23; they arrived late Friday afternoon and went on that night at Poli's with Mr. Foreman "just for the fun of it."

The sketch is to be elaborated and used professionally in vaudeville.

TOLEDO CASINO TO CONTINUE BUSINESS

Toledo, Ohio, July 6—The Casino, at the mouth of the Maumee river just beyond the city limits, will be continued as an amusement resort during the present season and thereafter in spite of the loss by fire of the mammoth summer theater there recently. Abe Shapiro and Addison Q. Thatcher, lessees of the theater, have already arranged to offer their vaudeville under canvas. Work will be started at once on an aerodome which will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks. Plans for the rebuilding of the big playhouse which was destroyed have not yet been made but it is stated positively that another theater will be put up. The $37,000 loss entailed by the recent fire is said to have been covered by insurance.

Fables in Vaudeville No. 9

"The Grouchy Comedian Who Bumped His Head and Saw a Great Light."

By FRANCIS OWEN of Owen & Hoffman

Once upon a TIME there was a COMEDIAN and a SKETCH that were a great COMBINATION. He made his AUDIENCES look like SUNNY JIM on a 24-sheet board, but the SMILE that made TAFT PRESIDENT never adorned his plastic mug. He was also very "up stage" and never joined the SOCIALES in front of DRESSING room doors. His "GOOD-EVENING" was as thin and watery as ROCKEFELLER'S contribution to a HOME for OLD PUGILISTS, and he froze with one look STAGE MANAGERS who couldn't furnish him with a handsome INTERIOR SETTING. Every MONDAY was a SPARRING match with him, and all favors were pulled with a pair of FORCEPS. He just wouldn't let people be nice to him, and was so "FUSSY," he began to look like a SEIDLITZ POWDER. PROPERTY men called him a PEST, because a SPECK of dirt on a FANCY CHAIR sent him into CONVULSIONS, and a whisper in the WINGS gave him NERVOUS CHILLS. Every one wished that some one would TRIM him, and make him behave, but the COMEDIAN never slipped on the ICE 'till he let loose his SECRET and gnawing AMBITION to become a TRAGEDIAN. He wanted to make STRONG men weep, and weak women faint, because they couldn't be introduced to him. He combed his hair like KYRLE BELLEW, cultivated a HENRY MILLER VOICE, and cooked up a ONE man TRAGEDY which, if played in a "Spot" would make GREAT ACTORS like JOE TINKER hide behind the GRANDSTAND. He was finally booked in an OPEN-FACED THEATER in the SOUTH, where MANAGERS ask for a CHANGE each night, and twice on SUNDAYS. The COMEDIAN saw his CHANCE to slip one over, and said he would produce—for the FIRST time on any STAGE—his HEART BREAKER, entitled "ONLY A BISCUIT," or "DOLPH MYERS DARK SECRET." The night that he was to

Places for Opening Officially Fixed by Drawing in Philadelphia.

The coming season on the Empire Circuit (Western Wheel burlesque) will officially begin August 29. Places of opening for the shows were officially fixed by lot in Philadelphia the other evening. James Fennesy supplied the following results of the drawing:

"The Lady Buccaneers" will open at the Casino, Brooklyn; "The Rector Girls," Philadelphia; "The Jolly Girls," Wilkes-Barre; the "New Century Girls," Jersey City; "The Tiger Lilies," Casino theater, Boston; "The Girls from Dixie," Howard theater, Boston; "The Merry Maidens," Montreal; "Watson's Burlesques," Toronto; "The Rollickers," Buffalo; "The Brigadiers," Detroit; "The Dreamland Burlesques," Empire, Chicago; "The Broadway Gaiety Girls," Cincinnati; "The Merry Whirl," Louisville; "The Follies of the Day," Indianapolis; Sam Devere's "Pennant Winners," St. Louis; "Yankee Doodle Girls," Kansas City; "The Ducklings," St. Joseph, Mo.; "The Umpires," St. Paul; "The Moulin Rouge Girls," Minneapolis; "Miner's Americans," Milwaukee; "The World of Pleasure," Folly theater, Chicago; "The Star Show Girls," Cleveland; "Big Review," Pittsburgh; "Jardin De Paris," Pennsylvania circuit; "Passing Parade," Baltimore; "Miss New York, Jr.," Washington;

"Kentucky Belles," Trocadero, Philadelphia, Pa.; "Cherry Blossoms," Scranton; "Cosey Corner Girls," Paterson; "The Bohemians," Miner's Bowery theater, New York; "Williams' Imperials," Newark; Pat White's "Gaiety Girls," Miner's Eighth Avenue theater, New York; "Washington Society Girls," the New Bronx theater, New York; "Sam T. Jack's Burlesques," Empire, Brooklyn; "Fay Foster Company," Troy; "The Empire Burlesques," Schenectady.

"THE GHOST BREAKER" HAS ITS PREMIER

Columbus, Ohio, July 6—The premier performance of "The Ghost Breaker," by Paul Dickey and Charles Goddard, was given at the Olentangy theater here Monday evening of last week, by the Stubbs-Wilson company. While bothered by the usual first-night troubles which include tardiness of action and choppiness, "The Ghost Breaker" seemed to "get over" in good style.

Charles Goddard, collaborator with Paul Dickey in the writing of the play is a young newspaper man, formerly with the New York Journal. Paul Dickey is best known for his long association in prominent support of Henrietta Crossman. "The Ghost Breaker" is being considered by a number of New York producing managers, among them Henry B. Harris and William A. Brady, whose representatives were expected to visit Columbus to see it.

Inc., attractions and opening dates, as far as arranged, are as follows:

"The Rosary," Chicago, September 4; "The Rosary," Peoria, Ill., August 21; "The Rock of Ages," September 15; "The Wolf" (western territory), September 15.

The following attractions will go out under the direction of Matt Sheely: "Just a Woman's Way" (A), Oshkosh, Wis., August 21; "Just a Woman's Way" (B), Benton Harbor, Mich., September 14; "Just a Woman's Way" (C), Waukegan, Ill., August 14; "Sensible Sue," Port Washington, September 17.

E. J. Carpenter's production of "The Blue Mouse" will open September 3.

The United Play Company will produce "Paid in Full," eastern and western, on September 4; northern and southern "Climax" September 4.

The George Amusement Company puts out three companies of "St. Elmo" September 4; eastern, western and southern, and one company of "Ishmael."

J. C. Smith has four touring companies, the eastern "Sis Perkins" starting on July 18, the western on July 30; "A Pair of Country Kids," western, August 29, eastern on September 10.

John Nicholson is following in the footsteps of Ben Greet, styling his company "Sylvan Players"; William Macauley takes out "Classmates" on August 14.

Two burlesques go out of Chicago, Harry Straus operating "The Lady Buccaneers" this season, and Harry Belfredge "The Gay Morning Glories."

RINGLING BROTHERS CAUGHT IN STORM

St. Paul, Minn., July 6—A cyclone swept over the eastern part of South Dakota last evening. Ringling Brothers' circus, appearing in Brookings, S. D., was struck just before the evening performance was due to begin. The menagerie tent caught fire from the lights and was torn to pieces by the wind. Although the animals were thrown into a panic none escaped, and as far as can be learned no one was injured. The storm reached Benson, Minn., at 9:45 o'clock and all the wires west of that city are down.

Macmillan in Harlan Role.

Don Macmillan will have the role which Otis Harlan originated in the W. F. Mann production of "A Broken Idol" during the coming season. Dorothy Grey has also been engaged for the company. The Show World said last week that Dan Russell would have the Harlan role.

Notes About People.

Ed. Jamison, car manager with the John H. Sparks shows, was in Chicago a day or two ago en route to his home in Lansing, Mich., where he will spend a couple of weeks. Mr. Jamison's health has not been of the best during the present season and he has given up his car with the shows.

Clayton, of the Clayton-Drew players, in vaudeville, has purchased twelve building lots in a suburb of Minneapolis with the intention of establishing a White Rats' colony there next summer.

Charles F. Cromwell has left the Troadero, Philadelphia, where he was employed as manager and will be with a traveling company during the coming season. Colonel Sam Dawson, formerly of the Bijou in Philadelphia, has succeeded Mr. Cromwell at the Troe.

Johnny Eckhardt has been selected to succeed Edward Shayne, of the Gayety theater, Philadelphia. Mr. Eckhardt has a wide theatrical experience and is one of the best known men in the business.

Dave Heilman will have charge of the advance work for Dainty Mae La Porte next season, opening at Lexington, Ky., August 1. For three seasons Mr. Heilman was agent for the Jewell Kelley Stock Company. Last season he was ahead of the Latimore & Leigh Stock company. During the summer months he manages the Majestic theater at Muncie, Ind.

WOMAN BECOMES CHAMPION BALLOONIST

London, July 5—Mrs. Ashton Harbored has won the title of champion balloonist of England by traveling 115 miles in a race that started from Hurlingham. Mrs. Harbored covered thirty miles more than any of her opponents in the race, descending at Beccles.

At times she rose to a height of 7,000 feet and when the balloon descended she was on the verge of collapse from cold, having to be assisted from the car.

Owen Leases His Play.

Francis Owen, of Owen & Hoffman, has leased his one-act play, "The Answer," to Miss Elsie Minet, who will very shortly give it a staging here in the city. Miss Minet will appear in an emotional character role, which is well suited to her, and promises a strong supporting company.

NEW HANDS AT JOPLIN.

Joplin, Mo., July 6—The new lessees of the Joplin theater, formerly the Shubert, are: Messrs. C. Thornton and Ver Picher, of Joplin; J. E. Hancock, of Hamilton, Ohio; and Dr. H. W. Woods, of Sedalia.

A Hindoo prophet down east some place is telling that he had a vision the other night and clearly saw Jack Johnson assassinated by a white man, "a blonde." When Johnson hears the prediction he'll probably drop over from fright. It didn't take much nerve for him to face the unbeaten Jeffries, but he'll certainly worry about the prophecy.

New Minstrel Show.

George W. Englebreth, formerly with the Primrose Minstrels, is to launch the Bryant Minstrels to tour the Southwest next season.

Hubbard-Beck Collaboration.

It is said that Martin Beck and Elbert Hubbard are to be responsible for a special production of the Passion Play. Mr. Hubbard is to prepare the version and Mr. Beck is to put it in vaudeville.

JOLLY RUTH GARNOLD IN AUTOMOBILE CONTEST.

Jolly Ruth Garnold has entered the Chicago American automobile contest and is anxious to have her friends save the coupons for her. They can be sent to the Palace Hotel, Chicago.

Robinson on Western Wheel.

It is reported that Charles Robinson, the Hebrew comedian, who has had "The Night Owls" on the eastern wheel for some years past, has transferred his allegiance to the western wheel.

In the big musical show which Charles Marks, Inc., will produce soon will be found the first incorporated lot of chorus girls. Mr. Marks realizes the importance of protecting a "girlie" title. No sooner does a manager think of a good name to exploit his chorus, than several other managers claim precedence to the same title. By incorporating his "Gilt Edged Heiresses," Mr. Marks has in a novel way protected himself against such methods.

REMEMBER THE CIRCUS DEAD— DOC. WADDELLS' COMMENT

Columbus, Ohio, July 4—It has often occurred to me that the dead of the big show world are not remembered as they ought to be. Pardon me when I write that in all my experience with the "white tops" I never forgot those who had passed beyond and on arrival in the towns and cities where they sweetly sleep set about to take up a collection for wreaths and flowers and trailing vines for their graves. One of the dearest events of this kind was at Geneva, New York, where all with the John Robinson Ten Big Shows in 1905 assembled about the grave of the late "Doc" Colvin and held a flower service of remembrance. The Rev. W. H. Sheak, now with Edwards' Zoo, was with Robinson then, and the closing words of his tender eulogy were: "He was loyal to friends. The love we bore him in life lives on and will never die." Let each and all of the profession pledge now and forever to give thought of our dead and to remember their resting places wherever found.

In Memoriam of "Sam Hutch."

One year ago last Thursday, June 30, Samuel Hutchinson died in this city. To this day not many in the profession know he is no more. He was known throughout the kingdom of the circus as "Sam Hutch." I mention him now for three reasons: He never failed to remember the dead and always contributed liberally for roses for their mounds of clay; he was extremely good to the canvasman and the razorback and gave to them often and richly; he was a fashion plate in dress, the Ward McAlister of circumsom. "Sam Hutch" was not forgotten last Thursday, the first anniversary of his death, and surviving friends communed at his tomb and lavished it with forget-me-nots. When raptured with the world he often expressed the desire to close the season of existence on the day of his birth and, strange to say, the Power that gave him birth granted his life-long request and closed his eyelids June 30, 1909. Louis, a brother, is dead, and two brothers, who are well known to the show world survive and live here—George, in the livery and stable business, and Edward D., who travels every season to state and county fairs with different sorts of shows. At one time all these brothers were in the circus business.

"Sam Hutch," I say, was extremely good to canvasman and razorback. I can safely say that I can look over the past and know that I never did the fellows who unloaded the circus train and put up the spread of white an intentional wrong. Of these men of rough appearance I later on intend to write and will endeavor to present their true worth to public and profession.

"Clothes do not make the man" is true enough, but show people should aim to appear clean and neatly dressed. The great majority are thus with themselves, but there are some, who, while not intentionally slouchy-looking, are so forgetful of their appearance, that the soil of towns visited almost a season back clings to their flesh and apparel. Such as these are magnets, easy-picking, for the bug and bee of circus fame. If you have no church religion, get imbued with the religion of soap and water. "Sam Hutch" was so neat and tidy and particular that when he had his breeches pressed he'd stand up rather than sit down and mar the crease of his pantaloons legs.

Successful Summer Park

This city has two summer parks that draw crowds—Indianola and Olentangy. The former is handicapped because of artificial waterways and lack of natural scenery. Olentangy is there on the "just as nature made it" platform and is a gold mine for its owner, Joseph Dusenberry, old time friend to circus folk. Mr. Dusenberry recently entertained Paul House, of Chicago, at the park. The latter witnessed Dusenberry's Wild West that was the hit of the park for several weeks and without delay engaged it for Forest Park at Chicago. The wild west in question is the property of Hill & Flournoy and, with their Texas steers, bronchos, Indians, Mexicans, cowboys and cowgirls, shipped to Chicago this week. I saw in Boston, and probably no child in the world so young as he has traveled as much. He has been in every state of the Union, except the one nearest his birthplace—Vermont. "Buster's" mileage adds up some 230,000 miles. He has attended every theater of importance in the United States, and has witnessed every big circus. The circus street parade is his favorite sight. He has been in the White House at Washington, has shook hands with "Uncle Joe" Cannon and President Taft and said "bye-bye" to Roosevelt just before Teddy left for Africa.

A Tip to Carnival People.

The Smith Greater Shows did the business on a big plan carnivals have moved slow—snail-like in taking down, loading and getting up. Circus ideas are needed in this business. Another thing: a "getting together" of the right and proper ones no doubt would win the approval of the Elks, as in the days of old and thus re-establish a business that would live because there would be something it is worth while to the amusement public.

Great Clown Act Possibility.

I looked in on an act at the Colonial theater, this city, the other night that made my recent story on clowns stand out before me boldly. The program announced "Seymour & Robinson, The Minx and the Mixer." Seymour was costumed a clown. The lady of the act, Miss Robinson, filled in nicely. Seymour's pantomime is great and his knockabout a hit. He has the talent to frame a clown act, topical and abreast of the times, that would take hold of the public as have the creations of "Spader" Johnson, "Slivers" Oakley and "Uncle Hiram and Aunt Lucinda" (Mr. and Mrs. Bert Davis). Seymour, take my tip and get busy and give the sawdust the new and top-notch clown stunt of the coming season. You can do it. Will you?

Quite a number of circus musicians are breaking into vaudeville. A few evenings back I took in the Grand theater and saw Charles A. McGrath and Art D. Vance, as "The Two Rubes," do a little bit of everything. They bill themselves as singing, dancing, talking and musical comedians. If vaudeville is permitted to steal from the circus the best musicians as they have the clowns it will not be long until the circus bands will be several planes lower than now.

Bigger than ever, dressed to kill but the same jolly, clever fellow under all, down where the heart and soul lodge, Joe Wymes came to town the other day. Once upon a time he was press agent for Uncle Ben Wallace. Later he was private secretary to Charles A. Bond, when he was mayor here. Now he is business manager of the Toledo (Ohio) Blade. Joe was nice to the boys when he was press agent. He was there for favors when he was the mayor's right hand man and now, as head chief on the Toledo Blade, he certainly will not be a mean to the story man and the chief contractor of the circus.

I was amused at Keith's by John Dove, the Scotch minstrel. He is clever. A base ball story caught me for a roar of laughter. A fellow, a circus man (well, it was Ed Van Skaik, of the John Robinson circus) was full of base ball. He fell asleep in church and every once in a while he'd interrupt the minister with: "One strike! Two strikes! Strike three! You're out!" Finally the preacher repeated: "If you are a sinner and repented not, how can you enter the Kingdom of Heaven?" Van brought down the congregation with the exclamation: "Slide, slide in, and you mean it."

An epistle from R. E. (Doc) Minton, with the Dode Fisk Show, tells that that enterprise is going along swimmingly. Press clippings highly complimentary.

Weston, Pedestrian, an Attraction.

Was expecting to have the distinguished honor of being official announcer for the Clark Doughty athletic events at the Driving Park yesterday and today. Aeroplanes and dirigibles were to have contended. Fast horses were to have turned the dust. The aeroplanes failed to play, the dirigibles didn't dirigé, and the horses didn't dust—for there were none of these things there. Edward Payson Weston, the greatest pedestrian the world ever knew, was on hand, however, and towered over all this wild west, and it is really interesting. Their bucking bull is a feature that combines danger, thrill and comedy. While at the park I met Charles Wilson, late manager of Dockstader's Minstrels. He is directing the Stubbs-Wilson Stock Company that is dated for Olentangy up to and including Labor Day, in September. That's going some for Columbus. The company is splendid and the theater is packed at matinees and nights. The mascot of the Stubbs-Wilson players is the two-year-old son of Mr. Wilson—Master Warren (Buster) Wilson. "Buster" was born handsome in Ohio and are making a reputation for the future. A program from their press agent states they have ten cars of paraphernalia and twelve different attractions with Thomas Quincy, high diver, Charles S. Arnold, flying trapeze, and Scelsi's Royal Band as big features. Mention of this organization recalls the days of the carnivals and street fairs under the auspices of the B. P. O. E. Other orders may put on such exhibitions, but it does not seem to be in them to get the money and please the public like the Elks. Ever since the late Frank W. Gaskill started the carnival

He is seventy-two years old and feels forty-nine. Walking has given him robust health and physique. The circus has done the same for many. The hike to the town from the stopping place of the last section and the walks to and from the square or business section to the lot each day, with a change of water, atmosphere and diet every twenty-four hours, does the same good that touring the continent afoot does. Sunday it rained and the events were declared off. Monday it cleared. Thousands attended.

High Diver Injured.

The high diver did not dive. In rehearsing he went through his net, which was an old, worn-out thing. He was hauled to the hospital. The ground being soft from the rain, he will live. He was billed as "Daredevil" Newby, of Indianapolis, but resides here. When I looked at the net I said to myself: "From Indianapolis? Not much. A Hoosier lad would have a safe net—one stronger than a 'new-by.'" Laws should be passed preventing sensational acts without every modern protection. Recently two amateur rope walkers in this city fell and were nearly killed because of improper protection to guy ropes, etc. In this instance, had the police thoughtfully guarded the guy ropes the accident would not have occurred. Weston didn't walk; he talked, told all about hiking for money and health. George Stokes, of Chicago, sixty-eight years old, was on hand and walked two miles in twenty-three minutes and one second. The returns of the Jeff-Johnson fight were received. I tucked away a wad on this go. I based my choice of the winner on Billy Delaney's opinion and Johnson's treatment of his mother. Black though he is, "Jack" Johnson has been good to his old colored "mammy."

I spent the "Fourth" at Buckeye Lake, my first visit. At least 30,000 people there. I met Col. John Vogel. He says his minstrels will open August 8, at Jamestown, Ohio—small place, but "dry." He figures ahead evidently. Aug. 15, 16 and 17 will end his minstrels at High Street theater in Columbus. This gives him one week start on Uncle Al. G. Field.

The "Twentieth Century" train of the Big Four railroad dashed into a freight backlog into a siding at Middlebury, not far from here July 4, killing twenty and injuring scores. Among the identified dead is Miss Fay W. Baubenmire, actress, of Pleasantville, Ohio.

GOLLOS VISITS EAST TO INSPECT THEATERS

To secure ideas for the improvement of his chain of theaters, A. M. Gallos, the Chicago moving picture man, left for the east this week, accompanied by Lee Forbes, his chief electrician. Mr. Gallos intends to visit all the large picture houses in New York, noting carefully the programs, etc., which are offered the patrons.

Among the Chicago theaters which Mr. Gallos owns are the Kedzie, 3204 W. Twelfth street; Royal, 1369 Milwaukee avenue, and the New Royal, 6728 S. Halsted street.

Mr. Forbes is a member of the executive board of Local 145, operators' union.

A CIRCUS FEAST
FIT FOR KINGS

Wheaton, Minn., July 6—Independence Day was celebrated here on Monday by the Sparks' shows with a dinner which would have done credit to the finest dining room in the land. Steward Charles Davis more than covered himself with glory and endearred himself to the circus men for life. The menu follows:

Clam cocktail, grape fruit cocktail, clear green turtle soup, consomme Sevigne, almonds, celery, olives, fillet of striped bass, Farci, sauce vin blanc, cucumbers, potatoes Orientales, tenderloin of beef pique, stuffed fresh mushrooms, sauce Madere, roast young turkey, with chestnut dressing and cranberry jelly, asparagus Pollo-naise, cauliflower, new string beans, mashed squash, potatoes in cream, sweet potatoes glace, noisette of sweetbreads a la Doria, cutlet of partridge a l'Ortolans, almond cream fritters, with Benedictine sauce, Lucerne punch, fat goose, barde sur Canape, orange and lettuce salad, English plum pudding, minee, apple and pumpkin pie, champagne jelly, charlotte russe, claret wine jelly, orange ice, vanilla and pineapple ice cream, Roman punch, pears, raisins, grapes, oranges, nuts, Roquefort and Camembert cheese, and demi tasse.

SELLS-FLOTO SHOWS
BANQUETTED AT DENVER

Denver, Colo., July 6—Shriners' Day with the Sells-Floto shows during the recent engagement in this city, was celebrated with a big dinner, served under the direction of George Dynan, cook tent manager. The feed was served in the best of style, there were pretty menu cards, and the usual after-dinner amusements. The program of eats was as follows: Ox tail soup, young onions and radishes, potato salad, prime ribs of beef and young veal with dressing, fricassee of chicken with dumplings, and peach cobbler, mashed potatoes and mashed turnips, vanilla, strawberry and chocolate ice cream and assorted cakes, coffee, tea, milk, buttermilk and iced tea.

TEXAS CIRCUS TAXES

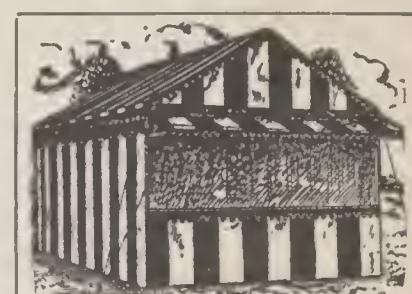

Austin, Tex., July 2—John M. Kelley, general attorney, and W. D. Hart, local attorney for Ringling Bros. Circus company, today conferred with the attorney general's department relative to suits for back taxes pending against the circus company in various counties in the state. These suits are of the same kind and involve the question whether the tax collected covers the two daily performances of the show. The Ringling representatives contend that as the show is given that there is but one performance given and that the taxes already paid are sufficient under the law.

Mr. Kelley sought to ascertain when the suits will come up for trial. He wanted to have one of the suits tried as a test case and to let the decision in that case answer for all. No agreement was reached.

It will be recalled that Revenue Agent McDonald has brought suits aggregating nearly $30,000 to collect back taxes from the circus companies

MEREST SHADOW OF HIS FORMER SELF

Otto Floto's COLUMN

Reno, Nev., July 5—Jack Johnson retains the heavyweight championship. By a large margin the big colored boxer demonstrated his superiority over the big white man that had been selected to wrest the title from him. The so eagerly sought for redemption of supremacy for the white race proved a myth. Jack Johnson in this battle at least proved himself the master at boxing, hitting, generalship and fighting. The former king seemed in a trance. He was no more like his former self when, with a single wallop, he was able to drive an opponent across the arena bounded by the ropes. He lacked steam, his mind could not control his arms and while his brain may have dictated what was best to do, his arms refused to obey that dictation. There was no unison of action and when affairs are divided against themselves in the same house consternation and negative results must ensue.

It's sad to think of the former great champion who tumbled over such sterling heroes of the roped square with apparent ease. He who had never had his head pushed back much less knocked down in previous efforts for the same honor and glory he strived for yesterday and in which he failed—it was sad to realize that the pendulum of his former knockout blow seemed out of gear. In short there never was a moment that the black man's honor was in chancery. He is either the greatest champion that ever lived or his showing against Jeffries leads us to believe so. If Langford can beat this man as he says he can, then we are waiting to be shown.

Was a Hollow Hulk.

Taking everything into consideration it was the biggest pugilistic upset that has taken place in years. To all outward appearance Jeffries looked the trained athlete. To all his trainers, to all his friends, to all the experts that went to see him it seemed impossible for him to lose. But they had not focused the X-rays on his inside. There was that invisible lacking that no human being could see. He had the appearance of the giant, but the body proved to be a hollow hulk. It is true he trained faithfully and reduced the fat that six years of idleness had accumulated. But in doing so he accomplished another thing. His disappearing fat brought forth a phony exterior that proved so deceptive and deceived many friends. Like the good old hulk that sails as proudly as the man-o-war on the smooth bosom of the ocean, to all appearances it will weather any kind of storm, but when the real "northerner" comes along it is tossed about and beached as though it were a chip. That's about as good an explanation and comparison as I can make of the Jim Jeffries I witnessed go to defeat. There was everything to warrant greatness in his appearance, but nothing to substantiate a single claim his friends had been making for him. Of course, this assertion was not proven until Jeff was in actual battle.

Could Jim Corbett have been right when he begged and pleaded with Jeff to box with him? Did Jim have an inkling of the weakness that was to be displayed in Tex Rickard's arena when he went to the writer and other friends of the former champion and said: "For heaven's sake, get Jeff to box me every day. He has not given himself a tryout; he does not know how to pace himself. It is all very well with the trainers about him, but under fire and with the real opponent before him he will find things differthe championship from Tommy Burns and the press and public forced him to reconsider all his previous plans and declarations and again announce that he would, for the sake of the white race, make another effort in the ring. It was not to his liking. Circumstances forced themselves upon him so he could no longer refuse to let public clamor go unheeded, and consented to face the inevitable. He failed.

Johnson Won Easily.

The battle still leaves us in doubt as to Johnson's greatness in the pugilistic world. His win was so easy and so decisive that he borders on the matter of a joke. At no time was he Hotel Lobbies Were Stilled.

Nine out of ten took it upon themselves to regard it as a personal defeat. The hotel lobbies, which would have echoed with deafening noise had the white man won, were as noiseless as prayer meetings.

The blow fell hard in many quarters outside of that small group of relatives and personal friends that gathered at Moana Springs and were while attempting to console each other at the misfortune that had befallen the house of Jeffries.

To be candid, Jeffries did not fight one single round. Had he mixed matters and brought out the best that the negro has in his makeup no fault might be found with him. Instead he fought one of those battles that thoroughly disgusted his friends. Could that quick thinking mind of Jim Corbett have been placed at his disposal there might have been some difference in the result.

But poor, big, goodnatured Jeffries going at a 2:40 gait against a 2:1 performer. His workouts while in training quarters were of the 2:1 caliber, but in actual contest he slowed up alarmingly.

Johnson certainly demonstrated that he was a ring general of the first order, poor as the quality of the man in opposition looked. The pity of it was Tommy Burns did not meet Jeffries before facing Johnson, as he would have surely credited himself with another scalp and his bank account would have benefited materially.

I never saw a fairer crowd at a fight and let me say here that the audience, though larger, indeed looks some thousands less than that which witnessed the battle at the Sydney stadium on December 26, 1908, which gave Johnson the right to sign himself champion of the world. Here and there applause was given Jeffries when the cheer should have been for Johnson, who stopped several well meant body blows that thousands of spectators plainly thought had found their mark.

Johnson Began in Second.

In the second round Johnson began to do harm, for a right upward jolt to the body followed by the two right uppercuts to the chin made Jeffries show a feeling of marked respect for the man he had threatened to annihilate, by hugging tighter than before and thus early we saw Johnson's golden gleam as he opened wide those large lips of his and smiled at the discomfiture of an adversary who had come to fix him up for the undertaker. I made a note in the third round that Jeffries' movements and appearance in the ring were those of what he really was—a "has-been" who tried to go back. In the fourth round Jeffries deliberately placed his left forearm across Johnson's throat and Johnson rebuked him and he removed the offending thing. Later Jeffries had bumped Johnson on the lip, opening an old cut and Jeffries people yell excitedly something about first blood and called upon newspaper men to make a note of it. What a poor way to score first blood. Johnson got square before the fight had closed as he brought the vital fluid from California's son's lip by means of his left jab.

Jeff Fooled His Friends.

Jeffries not only deceived his friends by his physical appearance, but worse of all he deceived himself and that's why he did not work for the last three days previous to the battle.

He could well be compared with a bonanza that gives surface indications of untold wealth buried within its great depths, but after months of exploration and preliminary work we abandon it as another valueless hole in the mountain side that tells its own story of blasted hopes. He had the surface value but it ended at the first shovelful of earth taken out from the top.

JACK JOHNSON,

Champion Heavyweight Pugilist of the World. Vanquisher of the Mighty Jeffries.

ent. I want him to box me all the time."

But Jeff Refused.

We went to Jeff and argued with him, but he put us off by saying that he never boxed in previous preparation for battle, and he was not going to begin it now. Many believe that he made a serious mistake in not doing as Corbett thought best for him. It's over now, however, and all the boxing in the world nor all the future victory if any, that is in store for him, will not wipe out that big black mark he will henceforth have chalked up against him. It is too late. He cannot retrace the step he took.

After all, it was not Jeff's fault that he reentered the ring. He did not want to. It was no desire on his part to appear again before the public in active battle. He had whipped the whole world in pugilism and left the field because there were no longer any opponents worthy of his attention. Then came Jack Johnson's winning of extended. At no time was he the under dog. On the contrary, right from the sound of the gong, he had the battle well in hand until Jeff, hanging helplessly to the lower rope near Johnson's corner, looked up in distress at Sam Berger, who came into the ring and acknowledged defeat on his behalf. There was no cheering from the throats of the thousands that had assembled to witness the event. For on each face there was that something which plainly told that they were struggling within themselves whether or not to express their admiration for the victor or their sorrow for the vanquished one. It was a struggle of sentiment, judgment and pride, a veritable tumult within. Had Jeffries won there would have been ceaseless cheering as the crowds went towards the city from the arena. Instead there was that mournful silence that is noticeable when a great hero dies or some close friend had met with disaster.

JEFFRIES DISAPPOINTS HIS FRIENDS

For months we have been asking ourselves but one question, "Can he come back?" It's been satisfactorily answered. "He did not come back."

Strange as it may seem on the morning of the fight Jack Johnson sent out to Jeffries' quarters asking if Jim would agree to split the loser's end sixty and forty instead of seventy-five and twenty-five. Jeffries consented and thereby added something like fifteen thousand to his wealth.

Johnson received $6,600 in addition to the $50,000 for the picture privilege and the $10,000 Tex Rickard gave him as bonus to sign the articles to fight Jeffries. This makes a total of $120,600 he earned yesterday afternoon. Quite a tidy sum for about an hour's work.

Still Counting the Tickets.

Tex Rickard and his associates are still counting tickets and it will be another twenty-four hours before the exact profits or losses will be known. It looks, however, as if the game Nevada promoter has earned a tidy sum out of the venture. At least, we all hope he has.

In conclusion will say it was curtains for Jeffries and red fire for the Smoke. He is entitled to all the glory that goes with his victory for he came by it honestly and through efforts that were all his own. It was the first time during his long career that Jeffries had been knocked to the floor. Like all men who meet with an experience that is new to them and which they have not been schooled at, he was absolutely lost and his efforts to regain his feet were the efforts of the novice. Were the affair not so sad in its ending we might say ludicrous to the extreme.

JEFF BLAMES DELANEY FOR PART OF DEFEAT

Former Trainer of the Big Fellow in Johnson's Corner Unnerved Boilermaker.

Reno, Nev., July 6.—The day after. Can you fancy a more desolate spot on God's green footstool than the training quarters of a defeated pugilist the morning after the battle? Never has it been more strongly emphasized "that all the world loves a winner," and the picture that met my eyes when I went to bid good-bye to Jim Jeffries at Moana Springs yesterday, where for the past two weeks the struggling mass of humanity made life miserable for him, where for ten days he was unable to enjoy the least bit of privacy, because of the curiosity-seeking crowd peering through his windows even when he slept and following in his wake when he went to his meal.

Yesterday there remained in the same place the silence of the dead. Seated at the table under the veranda of the club house taking his breakfast, but five or six staunch friends condoled with him—the real true friends that loved him for himself, that sought his friendship not because he was the champion pugilist, but because they admired him personally. The general public had no more use for him. He was a defeated man. They have shifted their allegiance to Jack Johnson, because he won.

Demanded Speech of Johnson.
Never was the worship of idols more quickly made, for when Jack Johnson left on the limited last night the thousands about the station demanded that he come on the rear platform and make a speech to them. They had time only for the man on the rear end of that observation car. Their former champion lay bleeding and battered at Moana, forgotten. A king yesterday, a castoff today. It is simply the way of the world. We all have our day. I found myself in the midst of a rendezvous of explanations and belated excuses of "if" and "whys" and "wherefores." Some advanced once cause for the catastrophe that had befallen the house of Jeffries, while some advanced others.

But all led to the same result. An admission that Jeffries had been defeated for the first time in his long career, and had no excuse to offer for that defeat if they eliminated the one fact, that "he never came back."

In speaking of it yesterday morning he said: "I just could not pull myself together. I knew what I wanted to do, but was unable to accomplish it. I fought a rotten fight and need no one to tell me. Johnson left a hundred openings. I saw them all but was unable to take advantage of what he offered. I felt weak and sluggish. The sluice gates between the mind and the body were barred or out of working order. It was not in the cards for me to win, and I might as well submit to the result in as pleasant manner as possible, for it lost. The unusual surroundings rattled him. He simply was no more the Jim Jeffries of old than I am.

The last two days he began to worry. He realized the eyes of the world were upon him. He had been heralded as the hope of the white race and wanted to make good to his pale-faced brethren. This as much as anything else proved his undoing. Jeffries has always been a man who worried over little things that would go by unnoticed by others. When he saw Delaney in the other corner it rattled him in a measure. For this same Delaney had been in his corner in all his previous winning fights.

He himself said to me yesterday morning: "I never wanted to win so bad in my life because Delaney was in the coon's corner. I don't care for

PUTTIN' BAN ON FIGHT PICTURES

Race feeling is also given as the cause for prohibiting the exhibition of the pictures in Baltimore. The board of police commissioners is going to request the mayor to bar the fight reproduction and the mayor has already said that, with a formal complaint before him, he will prohibit the exhibition.

Cincinnati, through its mayor, has also declared against the costly films and a movement is afoot in Cleveland to bar the views.

Boston's mayor has gone on record as being against the pictures and his stand, it is said, will be fortified by the behest of Gov. Draper, of Massachusetts, who is to be petitioned to use his influence against the exhibition. In Atlanta, Ga., a city ordinance prohibiting the showing of the pictures is being prepared and there is determined opposition in St. Louis. Gov. Campbell, of Texas, is said to be preparing for immediate passage by the legislature a bill prohibiting the exhibition of the pictures.

While there has always been opposition to fight pictures for the same reason that there is opposition to prizefighting, most harm has been done the cause of the Jeffries-Johnson film promoters by the rioting which followed the announcement that the big black man had bested his white opponent. In Washington, D. C., one man had his throat cut and several others were seriously injured. In New York a negro came within an ace of being lynched for what was considered an impudent fight remark. More than 100 arrests in Philadelphia were attributed to arguments between whites and blacks over the result of the contest. At Jacksonville a pronounced race riot, following the announcement of the fight decision, resulted in the closing of the saloons and the filling of the hospitals with men with battered heads and more serious injuries. Two negroes were shot in New Orleans, another narrowly escaped the rope in Covington, Ky., and scores were beaten up in Norfolk—all as the result of Jeffries-Johnson arguments following the announcements of the Reno result. The police authorities in Norfolk found it necessary to appeal to the navy yard authorities for aid.

CONGRESSMAN AMES INTERESTED AVIATOR

Washington, July 6—Representative Butler Ames of Massachusetts, has applied to the navy department for permission to use a torpedo boat in testing the lifting power of an aeroplane which he has constructed. Mr. Adams wants to mount his aeroplane on a platform to be erected on the bow of a torpedo boat. His plan is to speed the vessel at about 20 knots against a ten mile breeze, so as to demonstrate the lifting power of the aeroplane. A device will be installed to measure the lifting power when the torpedo destroyer is proceeding at various rates of speed and against winds of different degrees of strength.

"QUIET LIFE" FOR JEFF.

Reno, Nev., July 6.—No more public life for James J. Jeffries. No more fighting, no more show business. The proposed world's tour is off and so is everything else that would in any way ever tempt the former champion away from the privacy of his farm in Southern California.

He made the announcement through Manager Sam Berger after his defeat and return to Moana Springs, and made it in words strong enough to leave no doubt in the minds of his friends that he meant what he said. Berger has received any number of theatrical offers "win or lose" during the past few weeks, outside of the much talked of around-the-world trip, the tentative plans of which planned for the most extensive journey ever taken by a traveling "fighter."

But there's nothing doing, Jeff is out for the "quiet life."

is true that I am a defeated man." Then the tears trickled down his bronzed face, all of which told plainer than words of the intense agony that was raging within.

His Spirit Is Broken.

His hope and all his ambition had been shattered. The goal he so long held safely within his grasp had slipped away from him when he had least expected, all of which made the blow fall the harder. The best evidence that Johnson did not have much confidence in his ability to win was when he sent to the Jeffries camp and asked that the money, so far as the purse was concerned, be equally divided. There never was a moment that Jeffries believed he would lose. Not until he stepped into that ring and saw the immense crowd. Then the unlooked for stage fright overtook him.

He had been away from the game so long, and when he went back he was or about anything else that has happened."

That little speech came from the heart, for no sooner was it delivered than the big lump came in his throat again, and the moisture about the eyes was visible once more. He had spoken the truth.

Delaney had hurt him more than the world will ever know. His feeling against Delaney will go to the grave with him if he lives to be a thousand years old. He feels that for past favors and benefits he has showered on the veteran he at least owed it to Jeff to remain away from that corner. He is inconsolable on this one point.

Frank C. Burton has been reengaged by Wagenhals & Kemper to play Capt. Williams in "Paid in Full." This will be Mr. Burton's third season in the part.

JULY 9, 1910

With the passing of July 4 and the utter downfall of the unconquerable James J. Jeffries, the biggest general news item in months, if not in years, is killed. With strenuous Teddy safely landed from his African trip and on the shelf at Oyster Bay things look rather dull. Let some person start something.

Elbert Hubbard and some others have but little use for lawyers; indeed, in these days of peculiar administration these same people have but little use for the law. Vaudeville performers and more especially members of the White Rats of America are just finding out that knots tied by legislatures don't come out very easily. As they look on in horror while vaudeville agents become vaudeville managers to evade the lately passed New York law providing for a uniform booking commission, performers are almost wishing that they had tried to fight out their own salvation without the aid of the law. There is every prospect of there being many a week's work lost until the tangle is finally unraveled.

All the clairvoyants in the show business and all the spirit mediums in Christendom will freely pass up the question as to just what has happened to date in the Independent-K. & E. controversy, "fer and ferninst" the Open Door policy. There is a well-founded suspicion that Abie Erlanger has had one or more of his tires punctured but, mind you, it's only a suspicion. It's a bold statement but one well founded in fact that the bold distortion of the truth practiced by the Syndicate minions is only equaled by that practiced by the Independent movement's satellites. Indeed, it's enough to give any sane man the "willies" to read the New York Review and the New York Morning Telegraph on the same day. The first, the official Independent organ, tells you how the Open Door has won the support of another prominent producing manager, and the second, the official syndicate mouthpiece, contains the sworn denial of that self-same manager.

There's a little rule in the newspaper business which says: "Tell what has happened, not what's going to happen." To save headaches it might be well to wait a month or so and see what has happened in the Syndicate-Independent fight instead of worrying about what's going to happen.

George Bernard Shaw, the witty Irish Socialist, playwright and iconoclast, declares Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is a mystery or a sham. George Bernard Shaw will be compelled to guess again. Theodore Roosevelt knows the weak points and strong points of his countrymen, he is next to their idiosyncrasies and he just plays the game. He is neither a mystery nor a sham. He is the most successful, the most adroit and the most audacious politician that this public has produced since the passing of Andrew Jackson.—Beau Monde.

Francis Wilson has stirred up quite a nice lot of good press agency by his attack on the Massachusetts law which prohibits children from appearing on the stage. It is a noticeable fact, however, that the people who know most about the stage, care the least about having their tender children exposed to its temptations.

"RIP" GREATEST MONEY-GETTER

At the head of money-making plays is supposed to stand "Rip Van Winkle," which is credited with being the only play that ever earned $5,000,000. Jefferson is said to have appeared in the title role 5,400 times. "The Old Homestead" is said to have earned $4,500,000 during the first ten or eleven years of its career. "Charley's Aunt" ran for 1,466 performances in London and is estimated to have earned $2,500,000. "The Private Secretary" earned $700,000 in London, and "Our Boys" ran four years at a weekly profit of $2,000. Edward Terry paid Pinero nearly $200,000 in royalty and then cleared $300,000 on "Sweet Lavender." "A Chinese Honeymoon" yielded a profit approximately of $350,000 in spite of the great cost of staging it. "San Toy" has a record of more than 800 consecutive performances and earned $400,000. "The Little Minister," at the Haymarket in London earned at least $500,000.

Pryor's First Score.

Arthur Pryor, band master and trombone soloist, has just written his first score for a musical show. His music will accompany "Jinga Boo" which John Cort is to produce next season. "Jinga Boo" is from the German by Leo Dietrichstein and has been used as a farce under the title of "There and Back."

Powers' Theater reopens August 7 with "Her Son" by Charles Bradley.

Mr. Warren A. Patrick, Managing Editor, The Show World, Chicago.

Dear Sir: I thought that I would write you a few lines to let you know that I think a lot of your paper, The Show World. I must have it every week. I was in Rock Springs, Wyo. and at the store where they handle the papers I could not find a copy of The Show World. I put up a kick. Told him that he didn't know a thing by not having The Show World in stock and he said he never had a call for it until I asked him. So in his next call for papers he put in an order for five copies and had them in the window. Next day he sold them all, and now has a standing order for ten copies every week. I will do my best to see that all news stores handle The Show World for it is a good paper and not only show people read it, but others like it as well.

Long life to The Show World; I will boost for it all I can.

Yours truly,
Ellis Whitman,
The Human Rattle Box.

In Jest or Earnest?

Chicago, Ill., June 27.

Editor Show World:

J. K. Vetter wrote to the Opera House Reporter that I was playing "shooting galleries" around Chicago. I am playing the better grade of 10 and 20-cent theaters. How Mr. Vetter comes to style these houses shooting galleries I can't imagine. If playing small houses is appearing in shooting galleries then Mr. Vetter has traveled over the shooting gallery circuit all his life. Everyone knows he is lost when he goes to bill a town much over 1,000. As to making good in these houses, I doubt if there is one out of a dozen principals in Mr. Vetter's organizations who can do it. It is generally accepted in Chicago that five years with a Vetter show entitles one to commence on the nickelodeons, providing that they have proven exceptionally clever in his shows. It is presumed that Mr. Vetter's reference to me was "kidding." If so this letter is "kidding" also. He was in fun, so am I.

Yours respectfully,
Louise Willis.

New Tolstoi Plays.

Tolstoi has completed a new work called "Aschingis Chan." It is to be produced in London first. The fact that it deals sharply with power would most likely prevent its appearance in Russia. Tolstoi has also completed another work, called "The Living and the Dying," which is said to be a dismal picture of Russian peasant life.

Clearing House for Acts.

A clearing house for vaudeville will unquestionably be established by the big agents and booking offices of the United States from coast to coast. The idea has been in the minds of the executive forces of all the controlling agencies of the country for the past six months and the plan has been slowly gaining ground until now it seems that it will be realized before long. Unless the unexpected happens, the formation of a clearing house by all the agencies, companies and combinations booking vaudeville acts means more protection to the agents, managers and artists and will not mean an amalgamation of these interests for the purpose of sharing dividends and commissions. It does mean, however, that the agents desire to do away with the cutting of one another's throat by out-bidding the other on acts.

The agents point out many advantages to be gained by the clearing house, saying that it will do away with a lot of unnecessary work and worry and that the benefits will be equally divided.

ALABAMA.

Mobile, Ala., July 4—The Lyric and the Mobile theaters in this city are dark for the summer season; the former plays Orpheum vaudeville and the latter is a K. & E. house. The Keener and The Dreamland, both playing vaudeville, are open. Bills for last week were: Keener—Texana & Reynolds, sharpshooting and roping; Miss Maybin, singing and dancing; Morris & Parker, sketch. The Dreamland—The Allmans, singing and dancing; Whitehurst & Wyalde, comedy sketch; Murphy, singing and dancing; Francis E. Curran, monopede athlete. —Canau.

CALIFORNIA.

Riverside, Cal., July 4—Ray Meyers, ten years old, drew a little extra notoriety the other day when haled before a police magistrate for the theft of a bicycle by saying that moving pictures had influenced his crime. The wheel was returned and the judge's punishment of the youngster was that he should keep out of all places of amusement in the future.

The La Mayne Stock Company, playing at the Auditorium, has disbanded for the season, poor business is given as the cause.

Richard Bennett, formerly leading man with Maude Adams, is playing short engagement in stock at Los Angeles and is meeting with great success.

Ellen Beach Yaw, possessed of the highest known soprano voice, is to tour the world in the near future. Miss Yaw, who is a California product, is equally conversant with Spanish, Italian, German and English and ought to be at home anywhere.

William Collier played the Loring June 28 in "A Lucky Star" to good business. The Collier company closes its season in Spokane on July 26. The star is to have a new play next season.

There seems to be another revival of interest in roller skating in southern California. A number of rinks have reopened and are doing well. —Taber.

San Francisco, July 4—Accused of passing a worthless check on a grocer at Long Beach, Charles Quintard, a theatrical man, who registered at a San Diego hotel as C. H. Rice, was arrested and taken back to Long Beach by a policeman. The check said to have been passed by Quintard was for $60.00 made out on a Long Beach bank. The prisoner's wife claims the arrest is the result of a misunderstanding.

George Fuller Golden, the one man to whom vaudeville owes a lasting debt, is very ill at Los Angeles. He founded the order of White Rats, and has done successfully what many others tried and failed to accomplish. Through his efforts the vaudeville artists are protected and respected. His brother, Mart Fuller, has cancelled his time on the S. & C. circuit and is with him. The sincere prayers of all workers in the vaudeville world are offered for his recovery.

Hamilton Hill, the Australian baritone, passed away last Sunday night at Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Hill was born in Australia forty years ago and has played engagements in all leading vaudeville theaters throughout the English-speaking world. He leaves a widow and a baby boy, who had just arrived from England a few days prior to his demise. The White Rats, of which he was a member, are attending to necessary details.

The more prosperous members of the local theatrical contingent who are laying off at present, are now regaling at Reno, Nevada.—Karl.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 4—Last week was Harry Mestayer's farewell week in Los Angeles. He was one of the most popular players in the city and last week was the center of one continuous round of activities this week. Over Sunday he was the guest of Mrs. C. H. Canfield, of Ocean Park, who entertained with a theater party in honor of Jas. K. Hackett, Arthur Hoops, Harry Mestayer and Mrs. Mestayer. A. Byron Beasley, Miss Marjorie Rambeau, and her mother; Jas. K. Hackett, J. C. Wilson and Oliver Morosco entertained the Mestayers the latter part of the week. Members of the Ebell Club and the Friday Morning Club attended a performance of "Pierre of the Plains," in a body, this week, in recognition of Mr. Mestayer's efforts in behalf of the higher drama.

A benefit for the proposed S. P. C. A. home was given at the Belasco theater Friday evening. Mrs. Fiske and her company gave an act from "Tess of the D'Urbervilles;" the Belasco company was seen in a big act, and acts from the Los Angeles and Jas. K. Hackett completed the performance.

Miss Lily Lena, the dainty little English singer and dancer, on her second week at the Orpheum, made a pronounced hit. She found it almost impossible to satisfy her audiences.

"Going Some," Rex Beach and Paul Armstrong's hilarious comedy, has started on its second big week at the Burbank. Packed houses greet every performance.—Doele.

ILLINOIS.

Moline, Ill., July 4—The Herbert A. Kline shows given under the auspices of the Red Men were only fairly well attended owing to the poor location of the grounds which barred the crowds from enjoying an up-to-date carnival. The show's biplane, a 1910 feature, was given a trial test on the show grounds Thursday morning.

A colt born in Moline is the pet of Buckskin Ben's Wild West Show and will be named after the city in which the colt was born.—Wendt.

INDIANA.

Evansville, Indiana, July 4—Oak Summit Park, Edward Raymond, manager (Sullivan-Considine agency)—Caine & Odom, song tailoring; Everett & True, novelty dancers; Eddie Dolan, comedian; Errac, character violinist; Hall-Colburn Co., sketch; pictures closed the bill.

Majestic, Edward Raymond, manager (Sullivan-Considine agency)—Amy Allyn, soubrette; Black Bros., banjoists; Primrose Four, singers; illustrated songs and moving pictures closed the bill.

Orpheum, Charles Sweeton, manager—Moving pictures, illustrated songs and home amateur vaudeville, continue to draw good crowds.—Holz.

IOWA.

Webster City, Iowa, July 4—Maurice L. Adler, well known to members of the dramatic profession over the mid-west both as advance man and actor, was in Webster City this week. He is handling Will Rossiter's song publications.

T. Nelson Downs (King of Koins) and wife, of Marshalltown, are here to spend the fore part of the summer with Down's friend and old-time partner, E. H. Martin. They are living at the Martin summer home up the Boone river and will remain until Downs takes up his work on the Orpheum circuit in August.—Geo. C. Tucker.

York, after having engaged people for the stock company that will play the house during the summer. The roster follows: Thomas Reynolds, principal comedian; Aldrich Baker, old characters and rural leads; Richard Summerville, utility; Corliss Giles, leads; Frances McHenry, leads; Emma Salvatore, second woman; A. C. Henderson, characters and heavy leads; Charles Brokate, second man; Genevieve Goff, ingenue; Marie Howe, Lillian Deremo, Charles Lum, F. Fraunholz, and Robert Preston.

According to her park report, the city of Des Moines has $6,446 worth of menagerie stock. There are forty elk, twenty deer, two bears, two foxes an eagle, two owls, two alligators four buffalo and three buffalo calves.—Geo. C. Tucker.

KANSAS.

Leavenworth, Kan., July 4—Toiler & Wilson, who planned to run the People's Summer theater all summer, have gone on the rocks. The summer theater was not ready when the company opened and the regular theater was used. The weather was warm and the business was very poor. The management held out three days. Stranded vaudeville performers found nothing to take but the electric light globes and, packing these in their grips, left for Kansas City.

Of the Gentry Brothers' parade on Saturday it was commonly said that it was the best and cleanest which had been seen here in a long time. Everyone was disappointed when the storm wrought such havoc on the grounds and prevented the giving of the night ring performances. It is hoped that the shows will play Leavenworth again soon and will have better luck.—Corlette.

Topeka, Kansas, July 4—North Brothers' Stock Company will close their summer season at the Grand theater Saturday night. They will reopen at the Majestic, August 29, presenting "The Man on the Box." C. C. North, the manager, is entirely satisfied with the showing of the season. The North Company opened in Topeka one year ago and has played continually since.

Manager North will go to Oklahoma City, where his other company is playing. There he will remain for some time, returning to Topeka to prepare for the reopening. Two new players will be added to the company in the fall, a new leading man and a character man. In the last few weeks Manager North has appeared in the leads himself.

Miss Genevieve Russell, the leading woman, closed Saturday night. She will depart for Oklahoma City Wednesday, where she will appear in a special presentation of "Sapho" Friday night. After a short visit with her sister, Mrs. S. T. Hurst, in Beaumont, Texas, she will go to Chicago to buy a wardrobe for next season. Then she will return to Topeka. Miss Russell will visit New York before the company reopens.

Industrial Alcohol Stills 5 gal. Tax-Free $135.00, pays for itself every month. 75 to 500 gal. Stills installed under guarantee. Alcohol solidified 33 samples Solid Alkaloid Cubes 194 proof, post paid for $1.00.

Practically all of the company have been re-engaged. Miss Ruth Robinson, who has been playing second business, and playing the leads in the absence of Miss Russell, has made herself indispensable. Miss Clara Lemar, who joined the company in the spring, again will be one of the players.

Robert Blaylock, director, and Roy E. Hillard, character man, will spend their vacation at their homes in Des Moines. Mr. Blaylock, who has not been well in the last few months, will go into summer camp on the river. Both will open the season with the company.

Messrs. Albert and Edward Ferguson, juvenile and character players, too, will reopen in August. They will spend their vacation in the lake regions, also at the home of their mother, Mrs. Amelia Ferguson, in Grand Rapids, Ill.—Wagner.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Md., July 4.—The Hippodrome at the Oriole ball grounds is one enterprise of this kind in the country which is proving successful; other hippodromes in ball parks are closing right and left. Here the shows are always good and the audiences are always large. Nielsen's Aerial Ballet; Cacido, on the bounding wire; Nayon's Cuckatoos, the Two Zoyaros, revolving globe; White's Mule Circus; Three Nelsons, comedies; Barlows Ponies and Dogs, and Bliff, Bluff, and Suds, clowns, are supplying this week's entertainment.

The bill at the Academy of Music is as follows: Hisheesa, oriental dancer; Geneva Rinehart & Co., comedy sketch; Cutting & Zimla, musical eccentrics, and Fisher & Fisher, comedy cyclists.

Court Chilo, "The Girl of Mystery," in an offering copied after the Anna Eva Fay act, heads the bill at the Wilson theater. Moore & Harrison, in a comedy musical act; Brooks & Arnold, in a sketch; Johnny Walton, Scotch comedian, and Arthur Kirk, xylophone soloist, are the other performers.

DRAMATIC TICKLERS FOR CHICAGO PALATES

Many Good Things in Prospect for Next Season Which is Looming Close

By WILL REED DUNROY

SOME indications of the coming season are now apparent. Some little stir is being made in different directions, and the outlook begins to appear just a little bit rosy. Of course, during the sweltering season, everything slumps. Audiences in the different playhouses for some time now have not been large, and managers, players, and employees of the houses have all been looking sad and solemn. But the silly season will soon be over, and then all will be joyous again. Manager Hebert C. Duce of the Garrick and the Lyric is able to announce some of the features in store for the Chicago public. There is just a possibility that the all star production of "The Mikado" may arrive at the Garrick for a run when Mary Manning closes her engagement July 16 in "A Man's World." Mind, this is not sure. At any rate, "The Summer Widowers," the big Shubert summer show has taken up its run station at the Casino, and "The Mikado" is out for a little run in the provinces, so it may possibly come to Chicago.

One of the early attractions at the Garrick will be "The Chocolate Soldier" which has had a long and prosperous run in New York. This offering is one of those high class ones, which has some very good music, among other things, to make it welcome. It has been said by the good critics of New York that this musical comedy comes very near to being a comic opera—one of those old school affairs, where there is plot, good music, and good lyrics. It is of the sort that not only pleases the high brows, but has some little fascination for the persons whose hair grows lower on the front elevation of the head. Among the other people who will come to the Garrick during the season may be mentioned Alla Nazimova, the strange Russian actress who will have a new play this season. Mme. Nazimova, is an exotic, but she is one who always manages to stir every one up, and her appearance is always a source of excitement. The last time she was here she offered some odd and wonderful plays, which were not only too high up in the air for the common run of humanity, but even got our best critics into the guessing class. Mr. Duce says she is to have a new play this time, and let us all hope she may have a good one.

Forbes-Robertson, one of the very best actors now inhabiting the earth is to take up his incumbency of the Garrick some time in January. He will bring his play, "The Third Floor Back" with him. It is said that his acting in this offering is all that saves it from being piffle. Anyway, his acting is always acting, and his presence in the city will be a joy no matter what he plays. Maxine Elliott, who was one of the wives of Nat Goodwin, is to be a Garrick tenant also, and she will arrive in a new play. There will be other attractions at the Garrick, but of these no one now knows.

When August, the month of poppies and goldenrod, dog-days and hay fever arrives, we are to catch our first glimpse of "The Midnight Sons." This musical comedy, which has amused New Yorkers and all the people who go there for two seasons, more or less, will come with the stamp of approval of a vast public on it. Of course, a New York recommendation is not always insurance that Chicago will approve, but still from time to time we have had hints that the attraction is rather interesting, and the title, at least, is alluring. After the run of this musical attraction we are promised the New Theater company and E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe. Both of these will be here for four weeks each this time, so that all the lovers of high brow stuff may have opportunity of seeing all the real good plays they desire. It will be recalled that Sothern and Marlowe did a great business in this rehabilitated theater this season, and it will also be remembered that the New Theater hit Chicago right between the eyes when it was here. There will probably be some other attractions sandwiched among these bills before the season is over.

Actors are odd people. In fact, most people are odd. But players seem at times to be particularly odd. Take our old friend Ralph C. Herz, for example. Now Mr. Herz is playing a part in "Madame Sherry" at the Colonial. He plays it well. In fact, the part fits his peculiar style, and he puts it over all the time. But Mr. Herz is human. He is also an actor. Therefore, every few days there is a rumor that he is going to quit the cast. Why? Well, because his name does not appear in the same prominent style as does that of Lina Abaranall. Mr. Herz, whose name is short and to the point, insists that his name shall be in the same type in the advertisements as does that of Mme. Abaranall. Now printers are not always able to make a short name loom up as prominently as a long one. Therefore, Mr. Herz is quite often peevish. He looks in the newspapers, and on the billboards, and when he does not seem to loom as large there as does Mme. Abaranall, he gets very much put out, and then the rumors are current that he is going to quit. He is a very funny man, in his way, but "Madame Sherry" would go right along just as usual, even if he were not in the cast. Elizabeth Murray and Lina Abaranall can carry the show without Mr. Herz, if he wants to quit.

Clifford Fox, one of the best press agents who ever made Milwaukee his habitat, has gone back to that burg after having been in Chicago doing newspaper work for a month or two. Mr. Fox has the reputation of having put across more good press agent stunts in the City of Suds than any other man, and now he will be the whole press concern for the Alhambra, the Majestic and the Shubert theaters in that town. This is a very good berth, and one that ought to make any man feel elated. While in this city Mr. Fox lent his scintillating efforts to the Examiner. As the county editors say—what is Chicago's loss will be Milwaukee's gain.

One night last week, Richard J. Finnegan, the genial and handsome press agent of the Bismarck Garden invited a few newspaper men out to partake of some food in his fairy-like enclosure on the North side. It was an ideal night. The heat was oppressive, in all other places, but in the precincts of the garden it was as cool as the proverbial cucumber. Seeking a cool table under a cool tree, with ice-cooled chairs for his guests, Mr. Finnegan proceeded to play the host, and the result was something well worth while to those fortunate enough to be invited. And, by the way, it may be mentioned that Mr. Finnegan who has been doing the press work for the Princess and the La Salle theaters, in connection with his work on the Journal, is about to enter the domain of politics. He is to run for congress from some district or other on the North Side, and, naturally, he wants all the actors to vote for him.

During the dinner, some of the newspaper men waxed witty with the flow of Pilsener. Wallace F. Smith of the Record-Herald created laughter by one of his sallies. At one stage of the evening the members of Ellery's band stood on the platform looking the audience over.

"It's a rubber band," said Mr. Smith, which was considered quite a joke at that stage of the dinner.

Another member of the party said that he knew a neighboring diner was a newspaper man "Because," said he, "I saw him picking his teeth with a lead pencil."

With the prevalent prize-fightitis in the air, W. R. McAusland of the Record-Herald remarked that the lights got groggy in the tenth round, and as he said it he looked squarely at his Pilsener Stein.

The season at the Grand Opera House will begin early in August with "The Girl and the Drummer," a musical comedy by George Broadhurst, fashioned from his well known "What Happened to Jones." This will make another one of those farces that have been trimmed up with music, and if catchy music is only added, the entertainment ought to be good for the farce was a humdinger. After this piece has had its run Mrs. Fiske will arrive in a series of plays of the very highest order. She will be seen in "Pillars of Society," "Hannale," "The Green Cockatoo," "Becky Sharp" and one or two new plays. After Mrs. Fiske has gone "The Dollar Mark," a new play by George Broadhurst will be brought in, and then will come "The City" the grim and heart-tearing last play by Clyde Fitch. After that, Margaret Anglin, who has so recently won a triumph at the Greek theater in California in a revival of the "Antigone" of Sophocles, will appear in a new play, and later on it is said that E. S. Willard will be seen in a repertoire of his plays. It will be seen by the above theatrical menu that the Grand will offer some very good features for the season.

Gus Sohlke, who can borrow more ideas from other people than any other man outside of Joseph E. Howard, has gone East where he will book some shows for B. C. Whitney and also try to get some of his own acts on the road. Mr. Sohlke's brand of shows is well known in Chicago and it might incidentally be mentioned that the brand is also well known in New York, and almost always before it gets to Chicago.

Eugene Walter, whose "The Easies Way" made a good many people sit up and wonder just what a playright would dare stage next, has been inspiring down St. Louis way while his wife, Charlotte Walker, has been acting in a stock company. To some of the newspaper men down that way—nice unsophisticated men—he has confided that his next play will deal with the "white slave" traffic. He will bring forward the notion that even the most degraded woman need not be an outcast. Almost any person knows this, and almost any other person knows that the most degraded woman stands higher in the scale of humanity than the brute of a man who degraded her. But that is neither here nor there. Mr. Walter opines as follows:

THEATER FILM SERVICE CO.
PASSES TO OTHER HANDS

F. C. AIKEN.

On Saturday, June 25, the Theater Film Service Co. of Chicago was sold to the General Film Co. by F. C. Aiken, its president. The business will be conducted at the same address, without material change, the position of manager having been offered to Mr. Aiken and accepted by him.

The business of the Chicago rental office of the Kleine Optical Co. will be transferred to the offices of the General Film Co. under the management of Mr. Aiken, the two being consolidated into one exchange. The working forces of the two exchanges will be retained under the new management.

The General Film Company is the "steam roller" which is absorbing licensed renters. It is said that the trust first secured a hold on this latest acquisition when W. N. Selig purchased the interest of A. C. Roebuck, Mr. Aiken's partner, last year.

SALES CO. RELEASES.

"Summer Time," by the Imp. Co., released Monday, July 18, length about 950 feet. Of a quartet of girls, three receive engagement rings. The fourth, chagrined, buys herself a ring, and palms off the photograph of her brother's good-looking friend as her fiance, though she has never even met him. When he comes upon the scene he is chafed about his engagement, and does not betray the girl, and later, falling in love with her, he buys her a real engagement ring.

"The Mistake," by the Imp. Co., released Thursday, July 21, length about 980 feet. After a girl marries, a former suitor tries to force his attentions upon her. While she remains true, her husband becomes jealous and they separate, her father taking her back to the farm. Her husband receives proof of her fidelity and takes her back from the farm.

The New York branch of the Pathé Frères moving picture company has recently engaged the R. C. Carlisle troupe of rough riders for use in the turning out of American wild west pictures.

SOCIETY WOMAN TAKES TO VAUDEVILLE

Dayton, Ohio, July—Nelson van Houten Gurnee's new vaudeville sketch, "The Moving Finger," will be produced at the Lyric theater next Monday. Much local interest centers in the sketch because of the fact that Mrs. Huffman-Flaherty, one of the best known society women of this place, is to make her debut on the stage on that occasion under the stage name of Jane Eddington. Thomas Rolfe and Ned Barron, of Chicago, are in the cast also. The sketch has a Mexican setting and is elaborately staged.

Rod's Stock company, playing at Fair View is doing big business. Wright Huntington and Frances Ring are the featured players, and the company is excellent.

The death of Mrs. Evelyn Lloyd, of the vaudeville team of Lloyd and Seville, has cast a gloom over the community. Mrs. Lloyd was killed in the frightful railroad wreck near Middletown on July 4.—Buckley.

CHICAGO MAN'S SKETCHES READY.

Chicago, July 6—"Steel," Payton Boswell's new vaudeville sketch dealing with the labor question, will be seen at Sans Souci next week. It is a grim sketch with a grip in it, and it makes a little tug on the heart-strings. Charles C. Taft, J. E. McDonough, David Goodman, and Neomah Pattee are playing in the one-acter. "The Baron and the Burglar," another sketch by the same author, will be tried out next week in one of the local vaudeville houses also. Mr. Boswell is a newspaper man, and is at present employed on the Chicago "Record-Herald."

AMALGAMATE INTERESTS THROUGH MARRIAGE

Jacksonville, Ill., July 4—Theatrical interests in this city have been amalgamated through the marriage of the proprietors of the airdome and Bijou theater. James C. Weber, proprietor of the airdome, and Mrs. Angie P. Finlay, controlling the Bijou, were wedded in St. Louis Wednesday morning. They are here receiving the congratulations of friends.

Elsie Janis will be seen in "The Slim Princess" next season. Her opening engagement will be at the Studebaker theater, Chicago.

Opera Chairs

That Stand the TEST

The hard usage accorded opera chairs makes the selection of a chair of essential. Our Opera Chairs are conceded to be the ideal seating, as they are comfortable, permanently noiseless and combined with a distinctive style and excellence that is unequalled.

IT IS A FACT, whether you know it or not, that the

is one of the absolutely reliable everyday money getters among riding devices, improved down to the minute. Receipts for three days, $730; one day, at a fair, $250; at another, $400; at a Fourth of July celebration, $208; at another, $304.

We built the Big Wheel at Seattle Exposition last year, one of the greatest money getters there.

Our new 48-page catalogue tells it all, send for it.

"Even The Kiddies Love These Imps"

The goodness, wholesomeness and cleanliness of all "Imp" films are a big factor in the world-beating success of this brand of films. Give your patrons a show as fit for children as for grown-ups and you can never go wrong. The day of indecent pictures is dead and gone. The sooner you realize this, the more you will demand "Imps." Here's another pair of sure fire hits:

"SUMMERTIME"

Released Monday, July 18. Length about 950 feet. One of the daintiest little rural comedies ever thrown on a screen. A pure love story of the pippin variety. Ask, demand, insist!

FORT COLLINS PAPER ROASTS SELLS-FLOTO

Fort Collins, Colo., July 2—Yesterday's issue of the Fort Collins Review contained an "Important Notice" to its reader advising them to beware of an overcharge of ten cents which it was alleged the Sells-Floto ticket wagon would attempt to make. The paper's version of the "graft" read as follows:

"The show has two ticket wagons, one of which was opened this morning, and another of which is posted near the main entrance. A general admission ticket costs 35 cents at the first wagon, and when the purchaser asks for his other dime he is told that the sale is an "advance" one and costs 35 cents. The show, in conducting its "cruel" war, resorts to this means to even-up for its cut in the price of general admission.

"The manager declared this morning that the second wagon, where tickets can be purchased for 25 cents, is opened an hour ahead of the performance, and that the "advance" sale is merely to accommodate those who wish to buy their tickets early and to prevent a jam around the main ticket wagon. The graft is a good one, for practically everyone is around early at a circus in order that some time may be spent in the alleged menagerie and as the second wagon does not open until shortly before the real performance begins, many are caught for an extra dime.

"The editor of the Greeley Tribune in a telephone conversation with the Review this morning declared that there were no complaints in Greeley yesterday over the sale of tickets."

AIRDOME NOTES.

The Airdomes at Lawrence and Ottawa, Kan., were sold last week to F. E. Sumstine of Ottawa.

The Helen Hall stock company opens the Airdome at Ottawa, Kan., on May 14.

The Airdome at Lawrence, Kan., will open on May 28.

Joe Lyden, an old time actor, leased the New Airdome on East Federal street, Youngstown, Ohio, which opened May 9 with vaudeville and moving pictures.

Wilhelm Krupp, owner of a vaudeville theater in Uhrlrichsville, Ohio, is preparing to open an Airdome in that city.

Arch Smith, manager of the Airdome in Owensboro, Ky., announced the opening of the out-door theater for May 16.

The Crawford Airdome in Hutchinson, Kan., opened its doors for the season May 14 with the Sinclair Weber Stock company. The theater has been entirely remodeled during the winter. Curtis E. Little, with headquarters in Topeka is the manager.

R. S. Coleman has opened an airdome in Del Rio, Tex.

Plans are being prepared for an airdome for the Penn Amusement company to be erected at the corner of Eighth avenue and Eleventh street, New York.

A new airdome is in the course of erection at Coffeyville, Kan. It will be under the management of John Tackett.

F. E. Lumstine has purchased the Lawrence and Ottawa airdomes in Lawrence, Kas., and will make extensive improvements.

The Simpkins Airdome in Georgetown, S. C., is now in the hands of the repair man, and will be opened in a few days.

Harry Wareham, of Manhattan, Kas., will erect an airdome in that city in the near future.

KEPT MARRIAGE A DEEP SECRET

Topeka, Kan., July 5—Miss Winnie Noe, manager of the Noe Orchestra, now traveling with a road show in the southwest, was married to Albert Ferguson, of the North Brothers' Company, three weeks ago. Miss Noe came to Topeka where the marriage was kept quiet from unsuspecting friends. The marriage became generally known only a few days ago.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Victoria bill is made up as follows: Magneto, the human live wire; Charles and Sadie McDonald, comedy sketch; Greater City Quartet, and Lillian Maynard, singing comedienne.

Ford's theater closed a successful season Saturday night. "The Mikado," presented by the Aborn Opera Company, furnished the last week's bill, and played to big business. Robert Sell, as Ko Ko, was the hit of the show. The Holliday Street theater, the Auditorium, the Gaiety, and the Monumental are all dark and undergoing complete renovation, preparatory to next season's opening.

Blaney's theater has been rechristened the Savoy.—Plummer.

MICHIGAN.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 4—Owing to the extreme hot weather, the Fuller theater closed for the summer Saturday night.

The Harvey Stock Co. will move to an airdome which is being erected by the manager, Harvey D. Orr. Mr. Orr has secured an excellent location, opposite the post office, and will name the place the Garden theater. It will seat 1,200 and will give six evening performances a week. Two bills a week will be presented, starting Thursday with "Held by the Enemy." This will be the first airdome in Kalamazoo, and the splendid location and capable company will undoubtedly make it a success.

After trying one week of bills shortened to four acts and cheapened prices, Col. Butterfield's house, the Majestic, returns today to the longer program and the regular scale of prices.

The Vaudette, rechristened the Gem, opens today as a vaudeville house with three acts and pictures.—Barnes.

MINNESOTA.

Austin, Minn., July 4, 1910—Hot weather has called a halt to summer theatricals in this city and both houses are closed. The Bijou will reopen Sept. 5. Newmann the hypnotist, played to very poor business at the Gem, June 23-26. Hot weather was the cause.

Two tented aggregations are billed to appear here this summer; the Yankee Robinson Shows, July 13, and the 101 Ranch Wild West, Sept. 12. The former show will exhibit here on

HAVERLY'S WIDOW DIES IN POVERTY

New York, July 6—Eliza Haverly, 60 years old, widow of Jack Haverly, in his day chief of the minstrel men, is dead in a private sanitarium here. Eight weeks ago she underwent an operation. In a little uptown store, where she sold materials used by actors, Mrs. Haverly had fought for existence since her husband's death six years ago. The actor folk revered Col. Haverly and they held two benefits for the widow, one in this city and the other in Chicago. But neither of them was successful. At one time Col. Jack owned fourteen theaters and twenty-three road companies and had started on their careers such men as Daniel Frohman, George Evans and Primrose & West, but those were in the palmy days, and when the colonel died his wife and daughter found that they had to make their own living.

Dayton Exposition in September.

Dayton, Ohio, July 6—The Dayton Industrial Exposition and Fall Festival is to be held in this city from September 19 to September 24.

F. M. Barnes is director general of the enterprise and the following gentlemen compose the executive committee: Geo. B. Smith, chairman; Hon. Edward E. Burkhardt, vice-chairman; Walter B. Moore, secretary; Chas. W. Slagle, treasurer; Leopold Rauh, John R. Flotron, W. W. Stokes, F. J. Ach, Wm. Byrne, John A. McGee, Louis L. Wehner.

the big day of the Chautauqua, Kryl's band being the feature, and both sides are doing lots of extra billing to get the business on that day.—Daigneau.

NEW YORK.

Gloversville, N. Y., July 4—Barnum & Bailey showed to record business here June 27, at least 25,000 people attending the two performances.

C. O. Casselberry has leased the Darling theater for the summer and will run vaudeville and pictures.—H. A. Lockrow.

OHIO.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 4—Messrs. Drew & Campbell have decided to enlarge the seating capacity of the Star theater in this city. During the past season it was found that patrons were often turned away when the best drawing shows were playing the house. The alterations will be made during the summer and everything will be ready for the theater's regular season which begins about the middle of August.

"The Merry Kahn" is the bill at the Euclid Garden this week. The play, with music by Max Faetkenheuer and book and lyrics by Will Cressley was first produced at the same playhouse two years ago and did capacity business for two weeks. Amelia Bingham is to play a short engagement in stock at the Garden in the near future.

The Romany Operatic band, on its first American tour, has been engaged for a two weeks at Luna Park.—Edward Frye.

ADDITIONAL CORRESPONDENCE.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., July 4—Weber & Finlay have installed a permanent stock company in their new airdome at Jacksonville, and at the present time it looks as if it will be a most successful venture. This is the first time in the history of the city for permanent stock, and Mr. Weber took a long chance when he put the stock on, for Jacksonville has long been known as a "dead one." The company numbers fifteen people, headed by Lafayette McKee and Georgiana Eddings. F. C. Moore is manager of the company.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 4.

On account of the excessive hot weather, the Majestic, which has only been running motion pictures for the past month, will close for the season. The Barrie Stock Company has played to a good week's business at the Star Airdome, and will be followed this week by Harry Wilson's P. & W. Company. The Yale and Forum are both doing a good business.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, July 4—The new Orpheum theater in this city discontinued the use of vaudeville with the close of last week. Moving pictures on a come-and-stay-as-long-as-you-like plan will make up the weekly attractions in the future. Manager Russell's season was very successful. The closing bill was made up of the Sully Family, Karl Hewitt & Company, E. J. Appleby, and the Trolley Car Duo. Independent films are to supplant the vaudeville acts. Another picture show is to be opened here as soon as the necessary repairs and preparations are made in a large building opposite the Orpheum theater. Ten thousand dollars was paid for the location and remodeling of the building will cost $4,000. Local parties are at the head of the project. J. S. Potts, identified with moving picture enterprises here and elsewhere has disposed of a half interest in his airdome to J. W. Cohn, of Chicago. Jack Denny and wife will leave this week for New York where they expect to put on their vaudeville turn. Mr. Denny had been pianist at the New Orpheum. Miller Bros. & Arlington's "101 Ranch" has applied for license for an exhibition in this city two days in July.—Grimes.

PATTERSON THEATER DESTROYED BY FIRE

PATERSON, N. J., June 29.—The Scenic, a moving picture theater, was destroyed by fire here early yesterday morning. The opera house adjoining the theater was threatened.

Daly Brothers, who operated the Scenic, estimate their loss at $10,000.

Savannah, Ga., Theater Burns.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 29.—Fire on Friday morning destroyed the Cozy Theater, the ticket offices of the Southern Railway, with the commercial freight office and several retail stores. The loss is estimated at about $50,000.
